35,000 Poles Tried To Escape, Premier Says

WARSAW (AP)—Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz told the Polish parliament today that frontier guards had prevented 35,000 persons from illegally leaving the country this year, but that opposition leader Stanislaw Mikolajczyk had managed to flee.

The Premier said nothing, however, to clarify how Mikolajczyk, leader of the Polish Peasant Party, had made his way out of the country or his present whereabouts.

Previously there had been speculation in some quarters that Mikolajczyk might have been apprehended while attempting to cross the border. The opposition leader, who apparently fled Poland in fear of his life, has not been definitely located since he dropped out of sight 10 days ago with a party of seven friends. There have been unconfirmed reports that he already was in Britain, or was on his way there via Sweden.

DESCRIBED AS 'ISOLATED'

Cyrankiewicz declared Mikolajczyk fled after all his hopes of "foreign intervention" in Poland had vanished. Mikolajczyk had "isolated himself from the Polish people," the premier of Poland's Soviet-supported government added.

Cyrankiewicz also told Parliament that Mikolajczyk's exit from the Polish political scene would clear the atmosphere and promote the efforts of what he described as the "democratic parties" in striving for peace and prosperity for the Polish people.

The government-controlled press predicted Poland was headed for a long period of prosperity because Mikolajczyk had gone away.

Mayor Proposes Gordon Head As Fall Fairgrounds

If it is found impossible to use Gordon Head Airpark site for the original purpose, Mayor Percy George said today he would favor the city retaining the property for development as agricultural fairgrounds.

The mayor was commenting on the letter received from W. S. Lawson, district representative for Western Airways, in which he said the property as it now stands could not be licensed for an airpark, because one of the landing strips was 100 feet short of the minimum required.

Under the terms of the purchase from War Assets Corporation for $20,000 more than a year ago, the federal government must be consulted before it is used for any other purpose than an airpark.

Mayor George said he doubted if there would be any difficulty in getting permission to establish a fairgrounds on the site, provided the City Council approved his idea.

"I have felt for some time that it was a retrograde step for the whole of south Vancouver Island not to have any facilities for the holding of a fall fair," Mayor George stated.

Quebec Furnaceman Wins Fortune On Cambridgeshire Irish Sweep

TORONTO (CP)—Furnaceman F. A. Maheu of the village of Chateaugay, Que., is the only Canadian known to have hit the Irish Sweepstake "jackpot" in today's running of the Cambridgeshire handicap. He held a ticket on Fairley Fulmar, 28-to-1 winner.

The 31-year-old worker, who said he would quit his job at an Alloy Company plant, will reap a fortune estimated at $100,000.

But Canadians who held tickets on horses in the race will receive $750 whether their horses ran or not. Holders of tickets on horses which ran but did not finish in the money are to receive additional consolation prizes.

Other Canadians across the Dominion who will get $750 for having horses drawn in the race, and possibly consolation prizes if

Canada To Announce Representative To Sit On Security Council Shortly

LAKE SUCCESS (CP)—Canada's representative on the 11-member Security Council of the United Nations, to which the Dominion was elected more than a month ago, may be announced this week by Prime Minister King.

It is understood reliably that the Prime Minister has been urged by several of his close associates to make the appointment before he sails Saturday from New York for England and the Nov. 20 royal wedding.

DISCUSSION OF KOREA

Meanwhile in the United Nations here, attention focused on arguments over Korean independence and the new wrangle over press freedom.

The United States Tuesday presented to the U.N. Political Committee its plan for national elections in Korea and withdrawal of occupation troops, and promptly ran into stern opposition from Russia, which, like the United States, has occupation forces in Korea.

The Soviet Union demanded simultaneous withdrawal of United States and Russian troops from Korea at the start of the year and proposed that elected representatives from both occupation zones be allowed to participate in discussions of the Korean question at this meeting of U.N.

In the press freedom debate in the social committee, Canada, Britain and South Africa stood up for the press of western countries while the Soviet bloc attempted to vilify it.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt added the voice of the United States with a hope and a prayer for a "gradual increase of good will here rather than this continued back-and-forth of our telling each other what dogs we are."

On Canada's choice for the Security Council post, the Canadian delegation here professes ignorance as to who it is going to be. But they make no bones about saying that it will be a heavy job.

IN 'LITTLE ASSEMBLY'

In addition to his Security Council responsibilities, the new appointee also will be Canada's permanent representative at the U.N. and will have to take the Dominion's place on the proposed year-round "Little Assembly," which it is expected will be accepted by the current session.

Speculation here on the new representative continues to focus on three names—Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, who is at present Canada's member on the Atomic Energy Commission; L. B. Pearson, civil servant chief of the External Affairs Department, and Dana Wilgress, Canadian Minister to Switzerland.

But along the sidelines, some dark horses are being mentioned, including Hon. Paul Martin, Minister of Health and National Welfare.

Canada Makes Tariff Trade With 17 Countries As Preferences Cut

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has successfully concluded tariff and trade preference negotiations with 17 countries during trade talks at Geneva, Prime Minister King announced here today.

Countries involved in the agreements with the Dominion are the United States, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands (comprising the new customs union of Benelux); Brazil, Chile, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, France, Norway, Syria-Lebanon, the United Kingdom, South Africa, India and Ceylon.

The announcement said the government had authorized L. D. Wilgress, Canadian Minister to Switzerland, to sign tomorrow on behalf of Canada, "the multilateral general agreement on tariffs and trade and the protocol of provisional application."

The announcement was made simultaneously by Canadian officials in London.

With this formal announcement of the completion of the Geneva negotiations, Mr. King said many of these could not have been brought to successful conclusion had it not been for "the co-operative attitude adopted by those countries of the British Commonwealth with which Canada had trade agreements, notably the United Kingdom, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and the British West Indies.

Full details of the multilateral agreement to which Canada is party will be made public shortly, the Prime Minister said. The government expected that under the protocol, provisions of the agreement would come provisionally into force next Jan. 1.

IN U.S. MARKET

LONDON (Reuters)—Making a special announcement in the Commons today on Anglo-American tariff negotiations, Harold Wilson, newly-appointed president of the Board of Trade, said Britain had given special attention to the need for easier access of colonial products to the United States market.

Wilson recalled the declaration of Prime Minister Attlee that no tariff concessions would be given without fully-compensating advantages and added:

"We have agreed to reductions in our own tariffs or to reductions or eliminations of the preferences we enjoyed in other Commonwealth countries only in return for concessions which we consider equivalent in terms of the trade thereby opened up to us."

"We have been particularly concerned to secure reduction in the tariffs of other countries, including the United States, which would provide an immediate opportunity of increasing our dollar exports."

British-Italian Friendship Urged

LONDON (AP)—Informed sources said today the Italian Foreign Minister, Carlo Sforza, had suggested the "advantage" of a British-Italian friendship alliance similar to that between Britain and France in the talks he is holding here with British government leaders.

The informants said greatly improved British-Italian trade and political relations were expected to emerge from the talks, but that the question of an alliance was still "premature."

Clay Wants Germany Politically United

FRANKFURT (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay declared today it was "absolutely essential" that as large a part of Germany as possible be politically as well as economically integrated at an early date.

"Many millions of people cannot be kept without a government of their own forever," the United States military governor told a press conference of German and Allied correspondents at U.S. headquarters.

Although not specifically mentioning possible creation of a western German state, Clay said in reply to a question that the present German bizonal agencies could form a basis for a provisional government.

This was the first time the military government had hinted that a possible political future lay ahead for the German agencies.

Occupation officials hitherto have stressed that the function of the agencies, representing the British and U.S. zones, was solely economic.

Defies Communism Investigators

After refusing to tell the U.S. House of Representatives Un-American Activities committee whether he was a Communist, Hollywood writer John Howard Lawson (left) was removed from the witness stand by Capitol police. Lawson, who was described by several witnesses last week as a Communist, told the committee it was beyond its power to question his political and other beliefs.

City Merchants Unite To Force End To Car Strike; Ask City Council To Act

Opposition Head In Romania, 18 Aides On Trial

BUCHAREST (AP)—A military tribunal indictment today accused Dr. Iuliu Maniu, elderly leader of the opposition National Peasant Party, of conspiring with United States representatives and striving to bring about foreign intervention in Romania.

Eighteen of Maniu's associates, also on trial, had been under arrest since summer, but charges were not specified until today.

The lengthy indictment asserted that a letter from Dean Acheson, former United States Under-Secretary of State, had been found in Maniu's secret files and that the letter dissuaded Maniu from using violence "at this moment."

The letter was alleged to have been in reference to a meeting in April of Maniu and Burton Berry, United States minister to Romania.

The indictment alleged that 75-year-old Maniu asked Berry whether the party should use violence and that the U.S. representative replied this was an "essential question" which he would refer to Washington.

Maniu misinformed Berry of the political situation in Romania and demanded that the United States should send diplomatic notes, which later came, the indictment added.

The indictment said also that Maniu's archives contained a letter addressed by Berry thanking him for the alleged smuggling of party followers by plane. The document asserted that Maniu discussed with Berry several times the possibility of organizing "a violent overthrow of the present regime."

One of the 18 of Maniu's associates also on trial, Ion Mihailescu, former president of the Peasant Party which is in opposition to the Leftist government of Premier Petru Groza, announced to the court he was renouncing all defence for reasons he would give later in the trial.

The previously-secret indictment against the defendants accuses the Peasant Party of allying itself with "members of the American espionage service" in organizing a resistance movement in Romania.

Commons Rejects Churchill Motion

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons tonight rejected by a vote of 348 to 201 Winston Churchill's motion accusing the Labor Government of administrative incompetence.

The vote came after Prime Minister Attlee defended his government's program and declared that Churchill, in his attacks on the government Tuesday, "ignored entirely the facts of the situation."

$125,000 Total Loss In Bank Robbery

WINNIPEG (CP)—Forty-five clients of the Royal Bank of Canada now are believed to have lost securities and valuables worth $125,000 when a Winnipeg branch was broken into Oct. 22 and its safety deposit boxes entered last week, police said today. A final figure is to be issued Thursday.

The branch, in the north end, was entered the night of Oct. 22 through an unbarred rear window. A hole was cut through the wall of the brick vault containing the boxes, less than half of which were rifled.

B.C.E.R. Subsidiary Meets Union Chiefs

VANCOUVER (CP)—Street Railwaymen Union officials met today with officials of Pacific Stage Lines, Limited, after presenting the company with demands for a 20-cent-an-hour wage increase.

A union spokesman says the proposed new agreement would have to go through conciliation, and that a vote of the 150 men involved would have to be taken before a strike could be called.

Nanaimo Sentences

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Warren Wilson, 24, Vancouver, was today sentenced in Assizes to three years in penitentiary on conviction of burglary. Two thousand dollars worth of expensive pen and pencil sets were stolen during burglary of Filmer's stationery store here last summer, the crime being charged to Wilson.

Lee Chung Jing, Port Alice Chinese, also drew six months on conviction of indecent assault.

A committee of downtown merchants is being formed today to demand that the transportation strike be settled immediately.

J. W. Price, of Campbell's Studio, and Hugh Francis, of Francis Jewelers, are acting as organizers for the committee and will invite all retail merchants, including the Retail Merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce, to participate.

"Our businesses are suffering as the result of this strike, some to the extent of 60 per cent," Mr. Price said, "and we want to see public opinion crystallized in favor of an immediate settlement of the strike."

He said they were not taking sides on the strike issue, but were only concerned with seeing it brought to a speedy conclusion so that transportation could be supplied to citizens again.

Mr. Price said the City Council would be asked to step into the picture. "They are the elected representatives of the people and it is up to them to see that services are provided for citizens," he stated.

Among the businesses which have been hardest hit by the strike are hairdressers and photography studios as women who do not have jobs in the city cannot get in to keep appointments. Some are sending out taxis to bring in customers, but this adds greatly to the overhead.

Monday the City Council heard W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, explained the company's stand in the strike issue, and the previous week they heard the street railwaymen's representatives. However, no action was taken and some members of the council have said definitely they do not feel it is the City Council's business to step into the picture. They insist it is purely a matter for the men and the company to decide.

B.C. Cities Losing Much Revenue By Transit Strike

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's city fathers gazed dolefully after vanishing revenue from transit taxes today as both company and striking street railwaymen dug in for a long transportation tie-up in British Columbia's three major cities with an exchange of verbal recriminations.

While 2,800 tram employees steadfastly stayed away from work in an hours and wages dispute with the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Vancouver city officials estimated the strike was costing the city about $2,000 a week in lost taxes as a result of a new revenue percentage contract negotiated with the company at the beginning of the year.

$90,000 LAST YEAR

Last year the company paid $90,000 in taxes for the use of city streets. The new contract this year called for 3 per cent of the first $4,000,000 gross receipts, 4 per cent of the next $2,000,000 and 5 per cent thereafter.

Meanwhile the Street Railwaymen's Union (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) which is demanding a 20-cent hourly wage boost and a 40-hour week, charged that the company's announced intention of "riding out" the strike was "not in keeping with the interests of the public, nor with the welfare of the community as a whole."

On Tuesday company president A. E. Grauer said he was prepared to endure the strike "definitely" rather than surrender to the "unreasonable attitude" of union leaders. He claimed that if the company "gave in" to the union "these same unreasonable elements will be back next year and the next." Granting of complete union demands would increase the company's present loss.

Up To 300 Estimated Injured As Paris Police Fight Communists

PARIS (AP)—Unofficial counts of the number injured in Tuesday night's bloody, head-cracking street fight between Communists and Paris police ranged today from 40 to 300.

The riotous street brawling, first major political street battling in Paris since the bitter conflicts of 1936 occurred only a few hours after Premier Paul Ramadier had opened his government's fight for life in the National Assembly, summoned into special session to deal with France's vexing political and economic problems.

Communists estimated to number about 35,000 responded to a call in their newspaper, L'Humanite, to break up an anti-Communist meeting sponsored by former Senator Gustave Guathierot.

Estimates of the number injured ranged in the Paris press to as high as 150 on each side. An on transit operations in the cities of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster to "the fantastic height of more than $4,000,000."

Victoria will also face a loss of revenue if the strike carries on past Saturday, when the B.C. Electric Railway franchise comes into effect here. Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria Transportation committee, said:

Starting Saturday, the company agreed to pay the city 3 per cent of gross fare revenue earned by it within the city by the operation of its buses and streetcars. Ald. Diggon said he had no estimate of what the loss to the city would be.

Winnipeg Taximan Faces Third Trial On Murder Charge

WINNIPEG (CP)—A third trial of Lawrence Deacon, 35, of Winnipeg, for the murder of taxi driver Johann Johnson in March, 1946, was ordered today when one of the jurors at his second trial was taken ill.

Convicted and sentenced to death more than a year ago, Deacon earlier in the year was ordered a new trial by the Supreme Court of Canada.

Johnson's body was found beside his taxicab in an outlying part of Winnipeg, the upper parts apparently slugged with an 18-inch automobile bolt.

Juryman C. T. Painter was taken ill with influenza Tuesday night and pronounced medically unfit to carry out his duties. Court officials said the remaining 11 of the discharged jury probably would be retained for the new trial, which will begin immediately a 12th jurymen is chosen.

official police statement said eight officers had been hurt.

The Assembly, which Monday heard Ramadier attack both the Communists and Gen. de Gaulle, is in recess until tomorrow, when it is expected a vote of confidence will be taken.

Among other incidents, a woman who changed her mind about being a Communist and resigned from the party after being elected mayor of a Paris suburb had to be rescued from a mob Tuesday night.

Shouting "traitress," 400 demonstrators besieged the city hall in La Courneuve, one of the towns in the so-called "Red Belt," after Mayor Marie Lehut had submitted a note saying she was getting out of the party.

Gendarmes found the woman hiding in a locked room in the mayor's suite. They took her home under guard.

India Sends Troops To Kashmir To Meet Fierce Invading Pathans

NEW DELHI (AP)—The government of India continued to pour more troops into Kashmir by air today amid conflicting reports concerning the progress of operations against a force of several thousand invading Pathan tribesmen from the Northwest Frontier Province in Pakistan.

Pakistan radio reports heard here said the invaders had filtered into the Kashmir capital of Srinagar and that the city was in danger of capture, but this was denied by the Indian government which said the tribesmen had been driven back out of the Srinagar plain to the hills 30 miles west of the capital.

The Indian government added that approximately 10,000 Kashmir volunteers were assisting state troops and a battalion of Sikhs from India in fighting the invaders. Indian fighter planes had been assigned to escort air transports carrying reinforcements to Kashmir, several of which were fired upon and damaged by the Pathans.

Fighter planes also were being used in support of the ground forces.

The situation in Kashmir, a predominantly Moslem state, stems from its government's recent decision to join the Hindu Dominion of India.

Plans for Governor-General Viscount Mountbatten and Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India to fly to Lahore today to confer with the Pakistan Governor-General, M. A. Jinnah, on the tense situation between the two Dominions were called off when Nehru became ill.

Indian government officials said Nehru's "indisposition" would keep him away from his official duties for several days.

Denmark May Get New Government

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Premier Knud Kristensen called his cabinet into session today to decide its course after parliamentary elections Tuesday in which no party gained a majority and the Communists lost half their 18 seats.

Political leaders were known to be reluctant to form a new government.

Kristensen's right-of-centre Agrarian Party gained 11 seats, but has only 49 of the 148 in the Lower House. Some speculated that Finance Minister Thorvald Kristensen might form a new cabinet, or that the anti-nationalist parties might form a coalition government without the Socialists and Communists.

The leftist Social Democrats displaced the Agrarians as the leading party, winning nine additional seats for a total of 57. Some politicians speculated they might form a new government if assurances of support from other parties except the Communists could be gained.

With the count of ballots complete in 76 of Denmark's 117 election districts, the Communists polled 46,992 votes, compared with 93,533 votes in all the districts in 1945.

Most observers attributed the Communist slip to their recent demands for a purge of the Danish government, and recent Communist moves in other European countries.

Vancouver Seaman In Costly Prank

GRAVESEND, Sussex, Eng. (CP)—Boyd Henry, 19-year-old Vancouver seaman, was fined 10 shillings today for climbing a tree.

Henry climbed a tree in Gravesend's High Street and refused all appeals to come down until he fell, fracturing his pelvis. The magistrate fined him for being drunk and disorderly.

A constable said he tried for 45 minutes to persuade Henry to descend. Firemen were called and a ladder was placed against the tree. As the constable and a fireman started to climb, Henry shouted: "Attack!" He then climbed higher.

Henry fell from a height of 25 feet and was in hospital seven weeks. "You already have been well punished for your monkey tricks," said the magistrate.

Body Of Missing Island Man Found To End Long Search

A search that has been going on for 40 days for William Jarvie, 71, 549 David Street, came to a close with the announcement by B.C. Police that his body was found in the water off Long Beach, west coast of Vancouver Island, Tuesday.

Mr. Jarvie was first reported missing on Sept. 19. He is believed to have been suffering from a loss of memory and was reported to have been seen in Victoria by a friend, and by other citizens from a description published, during the first few days of his absence.

Constable E. C. Domay, B.C. Police at Ucluelet, reported the finding of the body.

Fred Hart and Ed Reifel, Nanaimo, sons-in-law, went to Port Renfrew this morning to take charge.

Identification was made by a driver's license and by the fact clothes description checks closely.

An inquest will be held. Mr. Joseph Jarvie, 607 Vancouver Street, today expressed the thanks of members of the family and relatives to the public and police for co-operation in finding the missing man.

Burial will take place in the family plot in Nanaimo cemetery where Mrs. Jarvie's first wife was buried in 1922.

Mr. Jarvie was well-known in Nanaimo. He came to Canada from Scotland about 40 years ago and was a bricklayer in the coal city for 38 years.

He is survived by his second wife, Millicent, Nanaimo; four daughters, Mrs. Fred Hart, Mrs. Edward Reifel and Mrs. Greg

Inferior U.S. Goods Swamping Market, Says Canadian Producer

MONTREAL (CP)—B. K. Gunn, president of the Canadian Woolens and Knit Goods Manufacturers' Association, said today that inferior United States goods had held up the sale of Canadian products, and at the same time helped use up Canada's supply of United States dollars.

"Imports from the United States to Canada of knitted and hosiery and wool manufactures in the first six months of this year amounted to $11,700,000, while the comparable imports from the United States in the first six months of 1938 amounted to only $157,000," he said. "These imports in 1947 had to be paid for in United States dollars, of which Canada is short."

CLEARING OUT GOODS

Addressing a convention of the association which 250 delegates from across Canada are attending, Mr. Gunn said that "from the United States angle it was clearing inventories of wartime types of goods to make way for post-war production. In Canada the abnormal purchases clogged the inventories of distributors with goods, dollar for dollar, of much less intrinsic value than goods of Canadian production.

"Since there were cases where such goods could not be sold in competition with Canadian goods, it resulted in a rash of advertisements featuring the word 'imported' and in some cases Canadian goods were kept off the counters to permit the liquidation of inferior United States articles."

Of trade with Great Britain Mr. Gunn commented:

"More than half the United Kingdom's supply of Canadian dollars derived from exports of all kinds to Canada results from Canadian purchases of textiles. Canada is importing, under the British preferential agreements, enough textile raw materials for further manufacture in Canada and enough semi- or fully-manufactured goods which compete with Canadian production to account for 50 out of every 100 Canadian dollars obtained by Britain for all exports to Canada."

Military Aid Mission To Greece May Be Increased Soon By U.S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials are considering an increase in the United States military mission to Greece as a means of helping the Greek army prepare for a clean-up offensive against Communist guerrilla forces.

Authorities said the present mission, totaling 40 officers and men, now appears to be too small to do an adequate job. The mission's assignment has been to help Greek forces assemble United States equipment being furnished them under the "Truman doctrine" aid program and to train the Greeks in the use of this equipment.

These authorities flatly denied, however, that there is any thought now of sending United States troops to Greece or of having any American officers participate in Greek combat operations, as was reported from some European capitals last week-end.

An offensive is considered essential to bring the guerrilla fighting under control and restore to Greece the minimum political stability which officials say is necessary to enable the country to undertake an effective recovery program.

The amnesty offered the guerrillas several weeks ago has not succeeded. The reason given is that the Communist discipline in the guerrilla forces is too strong. This had led the authorities here to decide that the only solution to the guerrilla problem is a military clean-up. The amnesty offer will expire Nov. 15. Officials say frankly they believe the Greek armed forces, which total 204,000 including police, could have shown a more offensive spirit than they have.

However, the problem of the Greek army is a difficult one from its point of view. It presently is seeking to protect all the towns and villages in government territory from hit-and-run guerrilla raids. This nails down the bulk of the forces to garrison duty and prevents aggressive action.

Meanwhile, the U.S. government still is holding the position that British troops, reported to number about 6,000, should remain in Greece as a symbol of Anglo-American force. As one official summed it up, the British troops are doing no special good but they would do considerable harm if they pulled out too soon. Aside from the 40-man military commission there are no U.S. troops in Greece.

Bracken Visiting Lake Cowichan

John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, following a series of engagements here Tuesday, today is visiting logging and sawmill operations at Lake Cowichan.

Thursday Mr. Bracken will proceed to Nanaimo. He will return to the mainland to wind-up his British Columbia tour Thursday afternoon.

Addressing a joint luncheon of the Canadian and Kiwanis Clubs at the Empress Hotel Tuesday noon, Mr. Bracken, Tuesday night was guest at a reception at the Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall.

In a short address there Mr. Bracken questioned the federal government policy of removing the subsidies on feed grains at a time when total production was required. He referred specifically to the effect of this action on Vancouver Island poultry producers.

"Removing the subsidy means poultry men will not be able to produce at a reasonable rate and consequently production will suffer," he said.

In interviews Mr. Bracken had high praise for British Columbia's Coalition administration of Liberals and Conservatives, saying the government was held in high esteem in eastern Canada and he was sure that it was held in equally high esteem here.

Cooper Turns Down Red Roles

Actor Gary Cooper is shown on the stand at the U.S. House of Representatives Un-American Activities Committee's probe into Hollywood communism. The slow-talking actor told the committee he had been forced to turn down "some scripts" in Hollywood because they were loaded with communistic views. He told of rejecting one movie role because it was about "an army whose members would not fight."

Province Publisher Offered To Renew Printers' Contract

VANCOUVER (CP)—O. Leigh Spencer, publisher of the Vancouver Daily Province, said Tuesday that Canadian publishers in 1945 became concerned over continuation in their contracts with printers of clauses stating international union laws were not subject to arbitration because those laws had been changed between 1943 and 1945.

He was testifying in the B.C. Supreme Court here in the second day of action by the Province against executive members of the I.T.U. The newspaper is seeking $250,000 damages as a result of the 16-month-old printers' strike at the paper.

However, Mr. Spencer said he offered to renew the Province contract with the I.T.U. printers, including a clause agreeing the union's laws would not be subject to arbitration.

"I signed the contract containing that clause and offered to resign it," Mr. Spencer said.

The changes in the laws, he said, included reference to severance pay, extra pay for night work, and a goal of 30 hours a week for night-shift men.

He denied a suggestion by counsel for the I.T.U. officials that he was given instructions from the head office of the Southam Company Ltd. on the non-arbitration clause point.

The publisher admitted the union had taken the position it could not or would not sign a new contract until the Southam Company had settled the strike at the Southam-owned Winnipeg Tribune, which started Nov. 8, 1945.

However, he testified, that he could not discuss the Winnipeg situation. "I had no authority to do so."

Mr. Spencer said that each Southam publisher was left with complete discretion in publication of his own newspaper.

Election Campaign Under Way In P.E.I.

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—Progressive Conservatives, with 30 candidates already nominated, had a head start today in the Prince Edward Island break-away election campaign.

Liberals to date have nominated representatives in three districts, leaving 11 more party conventions, to be held before the Dec. 11 battle at the polls. The C.C.F. has held three conventions and announced that it will nominate candidates in a "majority" of the province's 15 electoral districts.

Despite four by-elections and one acclamation since the last provincial general election late in 1943 the party standing in the island remained unchanged, Liberals 20 and Progressive Conservatives 10.

Wallace Examined By Palestine Police

JERUSALEM (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, former Vice-President of the United States who is making a journalistic study of Palestine, was ordered from his automobile Tuesday and the luggage of a member of his party was searched by British troops in a routine check at a roadblock south of Gaza.

End Of Racial Discrimination Without Delay Urged In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A committee appointed by President Truman proposed today that racial segregation be wiped out of American life "now."

Truman's committee on civil rights, headed by Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric Co., made 35 recommendations on explosive subjects in the whole civil rights field.

It urged the enactment of federal anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and fair employment practice laws—three issues which have torn Congress with bitter struggles.

It recommended that Congress and state legislatures outlaw segregation based on race, color, creed or national origin, in such places as trains, buses, schools, hospitals, theatres, hotels, restaurants, the armed services and private employment.

It proposed that the states outlaw "restrictive covenants" by which property owners bind themselves not to sell or lease to "undesirables."

The 15-member committee said these measures and many others are needed to bring the United States nearer to full realization of "the American way" of freedom and equality.

If you ever address a letter merely to "Dixie, Maryland," you're taking a big risk of it being delayed in the mails. There are seven "Dixies" in Washington county alone.

ROUND TABLE SUCCESS

THE DISCUSSIONS OF THE INTERNATIONAL Trade Organization at Geneva, preliminary results of which have just been announced, give a promising indication of what can be done when nations meet in harmony and co-operation to work out processes and arrangements for their mutual advantage. More than 120 trade agreements were concluded during the talks, with Canada participating in 17 successfully-completed negotiations. Tariffs have been lowered between the Dominion and Brazil, Ceylon, Chile, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, France, India, Lebanon, Syria, Norway, South Africa, the United Kingdom, the United States, and the customs union of Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. Each of the agreements must now be ratified by the country concerned, and details will be announced on Nov. 18.

In general, the negotiations dealt with reductions in tariffs and adjustment of trade preferences. The latter, of course, have long been an integral part of the Canadian tariff structure, and extension of concessions to other countries required the sympathetic consideration of those lands which were receiving most favored nation treatment. This was readily forthcoming, and Prime Minister King, in announcing completion of the negotiations, has paid tribute to "the co-operative attitude adopted by those countries of the British Commonwealth with which Canada had trade agreements, notably the United Kingdom, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and the British West Indies."

Tariff adjustment is a matter of bargaining—of granting a concession here in return for an advantage there. It speaks well for the 23 nations which took part at Geneva that the discussions have been so successful and the channels of world trade appreciably freed of hampering restrictions. At the present time, when the international exchange of commodities—raw materials, manufactured goods, foodstuffs, fuel and machinery—is so vital to the rehabilitation of the globe, every move to facilitate trade carries wider implications than the mere point at issue.

The Geneva talks have had another significance apart from the actual advantages to be derived from the agreements reached. They have illustrated—as have other of the United Nations subsidiary organizations—that despite the political fireworks in the Security Council and the General Assembly, nations of good will can get together and iron out their problems free from acrimonious diatribe and bitter fault-finding. This the 23 countries at Geneva have proved. There will be regret that Soviet Russia did not see fit to attend.

MR. BRACKEN'S BLUNDER

WE ARE TOLD THAT ALTHOUGH HE attended Saturday's provincial Progressive Conservative Association's "routine" annual meeting in Vancouver, Mr. Bracken refused to comment here on the resolution calling upon Premier Hart to name Hon. Herbert Anscomb as his successor. What the national leader of the official federal oppositionists said in Victoria yesterday, however, particularly when he pointed out to his questioner that "this is entirely a provincial affair," does not agree with what he said at the Vancouver meeting. According to the report carried by the Vancouver Daily Province, Mr. Bracken let himself go as follows:

"I am looking forward to coming back again and being entertained by another Premier, Herb Anscomb. You should not take second place to anyone, but you should be what you are—partners in the government."

What Mr. Bracken said in Vancouver evidently did not sit well with some of his supporters; they probably told him to "keep off the grass" when he got to Victoria. Hence his statement published in the morning paper. This situation is, indeed, "entirely a provincial affair." Federal politics have no part in it.

PEARSON FOR CANADA?

BEFORE HE LEAVES OTTAWA FOR Great Britain to attend the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lieutenant Mountbatten it is expected that Mr. Mackenzie King will name the delegate to represent Canada on the Security Council of the United Nations—to which this country was recently elected by the General Assembly at Flushing Meadows. It would be presumptuous on our part to try to advise the Prime Minister in a matter of such international importance as this; he probably has made up his mind. It is nevertheless not out of place to hope that the choice will go to Hon. Lester B. ("Mike") Pearson, former Canadian ambassador to the United States and at the moment Deputy Minister of External Affairs. Other potential candidates for the office include Hon. Dana Wilgress, who not long ago returned from Moscow where his role as ambassador was signally successful, not only because of his intimate knowledge of the Soviet Union, but also because of his long experience in the diplomatic field. General A. G. L. McNaughton also is mentioned as a candidate who may claim Mr. King's consideration.

Our specific interest in Mr. Pearson, shared obviously by many who saw him in action at the San Francisco Conference and at Lake Success last spring, resides in the undisputable fact that he possesses the happy faculty of being able to pour "oil on the troubled waters" without the least ostentation. This brilliant young Canadian of enviable scholastic attainments can impart the right tones of light and shade to all discussions and rebuke or commend with appropriate felicity. And, reduced to common parlance, Mr. Pearson can pack a powerful wallop or turn on the glamour with equal effect. He and Sir Alexander Cadogan, the suave and experienced Briton, would find much in common in such technique as it is so often necessary to employ on those occasions when Mr. Gromyko goes into one of his Kremlin-dictated tantrums.

A BY-LAW WITH TEETH

SINCE NO COMMUNITY CAN REST assured that all its members will voluntarily observe the instructions of health authorities on matters which jeopardize the well-being of others, the City Health Department is entitled to congratulate itself on having now a precedent on which to enforce certain of its instructions. Within the last few days the civic authorities took to County Court an appeal against police court dismissal of charges laid under Section 43 of the Public Health By-law. The appeal was sustained and the prescribed penalties were imposed.

The case in point is of relative significance only—an instance in which an individual neglected orders to remove malodorous, fly-breeding refuse from a woodyard. What is important is that henceforth anyone inclined to treat lightly the instructions received from the public health authorities should know that they are inviting trouble for themselves. The by-law governing the question has teeth in it.

INHERITANCE

FEW PEOPLE IN THE PRIME OF LIFE have achieved a philosophy which would permit them to turn down a fortune. The thought of great and sudden riches is one that obtains an instant response from the vast majority of mankind. It is the lifelong goal of some, the lifelong dream of many more. A more critical view of such an eventually requires the more experienced judgment of age and its inevitable process of habit formation.

Such a view is that taken by John Hilton, the 73-year-old former factory worker of Leyland, England, who from the bare subsistence level of his $17.40 a week pension is looking with but little favor on a recently-inherited fortune of $1,080,000. Says Hilton: "Thirty years ago it might have meant so much. But now all it has done is make me ill and worried with legal complexities and negotiations."

Time had changed the young man who started work in a Preston factory 50 years ago. Then the normal hopes and dreams of youth were active; life was an opportunity; work was a means to an end; luck the ever-present spark that would touch off the flame of success. But time went on. The opportunity seemed not great enough, the work proved incapable of producing a fortune, and the luck did not materialize. The small living of the wage earner became the habitual way of life. As the years rolled by, however, the dwindling hopes were replaced by something more substantial. The philosophic outlook grew and developed, and transmuted simple, work-a-day experiences into a different form of wealth from that of the fine house and bank account.

At three years past the three score and ten, John Hilton can look at the suddenly-materialized fortune and feel no desire for it. His cottage, his quiet life and his friends leave little to add to his complete fulfillment. With or without the inherited fortune, John Hilton is rich.

FOR BUYERS AND SELLERS

IT WILL BE NO SURPRISE TO THOSE who for many months have been trying unsuccessfully to buy a new automobile, but figures arising from a recent survey indicate the existence in this country of a large and as yet unsatisfied potential demand for cars, from present owners no less than from prospects. The survey, conducted by the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, reveals that one car in every three in Canada is a 1936 model or older. In 60 cities under study, about one car in seven is a 1931 model or earlier. The shortage has worked in two ways. Not only has the large demand for new cars remained unsatisfied, but the many drivers of the lower income group, who would ordinarily be buying fairly new used cars, have been forced to retain their older models long past the period of best usefulness. One-third of the cars in use are 12 or more years old.

While the situation, of course, presents a challenge to the Canadian automobile industry which the manufacturers are doing their best to meet, it also extends an invitation to the producers of Britain. Present circumstances are particularly favorable for the overseas product, in that Canada is rapidly running short of United States dollars and supplementary business with the United Kingdom would help to ease this trend. The effect on Britain, already in debt to this country, would be even more salutary in so far as her exports to Canada did not cut into her sales in the United States.

Hardly Cricket, What? Striking A Balance

IT WAS NOT ENOUGH that the Englishman should be threatened with the loss of his life. It was not enough that he should be reduced to short commons on his beer, or that he should be required to forego his customary share of roast beef. Now another of his shrines has been assailed. From the lips of Earl Wavell, former Viceroy of India, comes the suggestion that the founder of Lords Cricket Ground in London, home of English cricket, must have caused the waste of more manpower than any other individual. And to make his point clearer the distinguished soldier quips:

"That 22 grown men (or 25 if umpires and scorers are included) should spend three or four or even more days in a game, and should go on doing it for months on end seems to an outsider the height of absurdity."

WE PROFESS NO knowledge of the esotericism of cricket. We have, however, tried to understand the philosophy inspired by the oft-quoted principle laid down in the "playing fields of Eton" citation, and we have given some grudging admiration to the sentiment contained in the Newbolt stanza about "the bumping pitch and the blinding light, an hour to play and the last man in." But when a man of Wavell's distinction sweeps all that away in one challenging sentence—by gad, Sir, it's shattering.

NOT THAT THE utterance is without precedent. Kipling had something to say about "flanneled fools at the wickets. . . ." An outstanding United States university president admitted that whenever he was seized with a desire for physical exercise, he merely lay down for a short time until the desire passed off. Even before that, the wealthy Chinese are reputed to have paid hirelings to play tennis for them when they wished to enjoy the game. And a more recent humorist once declared that he received his only physical exercise from acting as pallbearer to friends who took physical exercise.

This, of course, is in direct contradiction to the opinion allegedly expressed by a British Admiral who supposedly crossed the Atlantic for the sole purpose of informing the men at an eastern Canadian naval station that "Sport's the thing."

FROM ONE POINT of view, sport is a little ridiculous. Why should an athlete devote so much of his life to trying to run a mile in four minutes? If speed is his desire, he could cover the distance much faster in a taxi. And why should an expert at hitting home runs have received a higher salary than the President of the United States? Balls, or at least other missiles, have been delivered a much greater distance by machines—and more accurately, too. Why should a man climb up a ladder to do a somersault or two before he hits the water, when he could get just as wet by dropping in from the edge of the pool? Why should a pole-vaulter try to leap so high that his limbs and body are in jeopardy from the bump when he lands? Why should a boxer risk a wallop on the jaw in the hopes of giving a wallop on the jaw to an opponent he does not dislike? Why should football, hockey, basketball and other team members wear themselves out in a contest which brings them no material reward? Why should a golfer try to hit a ball less often than his opponent and a tennis player more often?

ALL THIS ENERGY could be expended to greater profit and with less pain to the individual. The time of the performer would not be wasted and the multiple man hours of spectators would not evaporate in the stadium air.

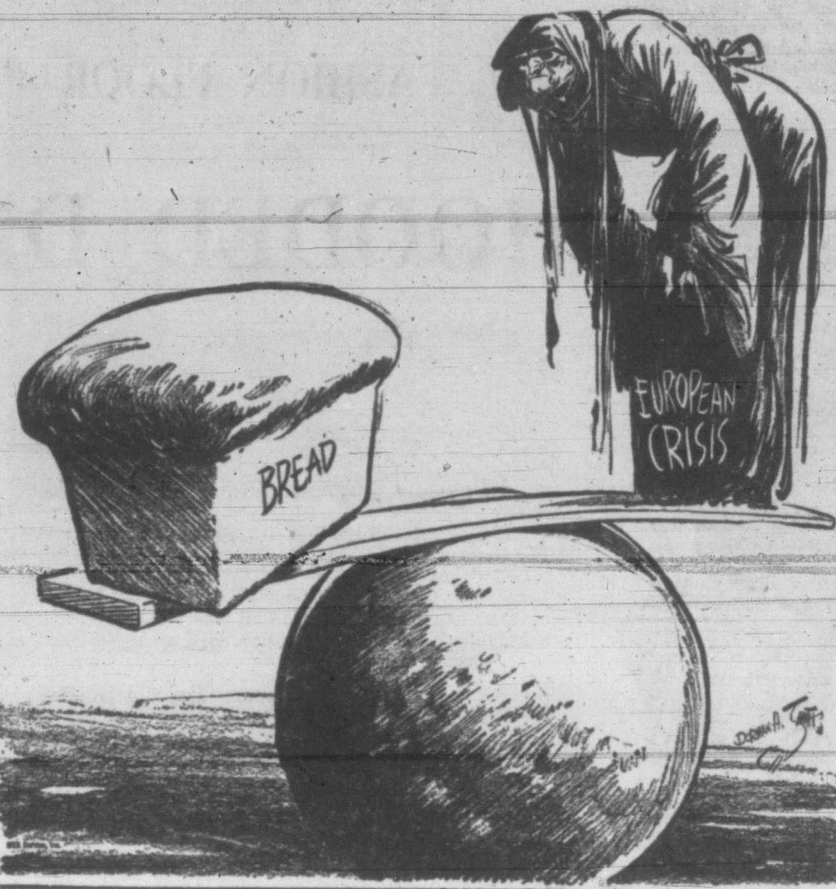

Of course there is the little matter of personal will to achievement, a healthy desire for ego expression, the benefits of body building and those non-material enjoyments of team play, comradeship and the allied pleasures of recreation. But, admittedly, sport in most of its manifestations is just as foolish as reading, as playing musical instruments, as engaging in profitless social intercourse, in following paths cultural or in seeking mediums of expression outside the routine of those activities which yield dollars in the pay envelope. Without it, a man could lie longer abed, could avoid disturbing contacts with his fellow humans. And if he could overcome his inclinations to participate in other forms of recreation, he might even achieve the placidity of the amoeba, if not the philosophic calm of Buddha-like contemplation.

BUT THE HUMAN animal will not react that way. And whether or not the doctrine of the "playing fields of Eton" persists, or the dignity of Lords remains or passes, young Englishmen will continue to spend man hours on the cricket pitch. Though why, none but the devotee of that game will ever know.—A.H.S.

Quoting

It is a human problem that faces us in the world today, not a political one. The people must be served, and they will go where their hope leads them, even if it is a false hope.—Pearl S. Buck, author.

The British are a sturdy people, possessed of good business sense, and their internal budgetary situation is good, and anyway, history dictates that it is unwise to write off the British too quickly.—John J. McCloy, president, World Bank.

Through The Camera Of The Mind

By GEORGE MCCARTHY

ALL OF US, except the very young, have been living a little in the past, these last few days. I think the suffragettes started it. A woman speaker at a suffragette reunion expressed her indignation at the news that on Nov. 20 Princess Elizabeth will promise not only to love and honor her husband but to obey him as well.

It would be interesting if I could report that that speech brought all the women of the kingdom into a great march of protest along the historic Mall and that with a song and a battle cry they persuaded the Princess to appear on the balcony of Buckingham Palace and promise to uphold forever the rights of free women.

WOMEN'S FIGHT

Alas, nothing so romantic has happened. The vows the Princess bride will take are not an issue in our lives and the old forms will be observed. But the protest must have started every man's own cavalcade flickering: shots from the memory and the old pictures: women handcuffed to railings, pelting statesmen, hunger-striking in prison, women marching, women speaking and, in the bitter end, women winning.

But if we have all been thrown back on our yesterdays our preoccupations have not changed. We have learned with forebodings but without dismay that Mr. Dalton has definitely decided on an autumn budget. We console ourselves with the thought that taxation cannot be much higher than it is, and we read almost with indifference the prophecies of incomes cut by enforced savings and of purchase taxes on gas and coal and electricity.

FOOD

We find ourselves talking more and more about food. Earnest groups in pubs and clubs are surprisingly found to be discussing the rival claims of hen-keeping over pig-rearing. And then there are goats. One London newspaper this week has a special article on how to buy a cow on the installment system and there is talk of looking up the address of the man who years ago wrote to the newspapers to explain that he never ate anything but grass.

Not that we are hungry. Indeed it is a pretty safe bet that there are fewer ill-fed people in Britain today than there were in 1930. All the same we are a nation sighing for a second helping and determined to grow or buy it and not beg it.

But if you examine our newspapers you will realize why food is so constantly a subject for light-hearted though earnest discussion. Milk rations to invalids and children are to be cut and less milk will go to restaurants and hotels. There is a growing fear of a potato famine in the spring and Mr. Strachey, too hard-up now to buy sardines from Portugal, is introducing from the Union of South Africa a strange new fish called sneek.

IN GOOD HEART

Nevertheless, despite food hazards, tinned, frozen or dehydrated, we march toward another austerity winter in good heart. Coal stocks are better than last year and this week the miners have passed the 4,000,000 tons a week production mark.

The Moving Finger Writes . . .

MORALLY DEGRADING

Harry Medos, recently executed for the murder of a Vancouver policeman, is reported to have said before he died that he had got on the wrong track through reading cheap detective stories and seeing gangster movies. I don't read detective stories and know nothing about that, but I do know that some of the movies recently shown in this city can have anything but a morally edifying effect. I contend that such exhibitions, powerfully acted and staged though they may be, are morally degrading in their effect and deserve to be thoroughly discountenanced and denounced.

FOR MENTAL TREATMENT

It is a fairly well known fact that "Essondale," the mental hospital of New Westminster is always overcrowded, and that patients from Victoria and the Island help to overcrowd it. Why should not an annex of Essondale be built, in, or near Victoria.

better than cure. It would appear that several tragic affairs here lately, would perhaps have been prevented, had there been suitable hospital space here to receive the sick ones, for a longer period, at the right time.

What can be done about the lack of hospital space here in Victoria, a lack that helps to add to the crime list? (Mrs.) A. BRAZIL.

PROFITABLE HOUR

In the recent newspaper report regarding the Victoria School Board's attitude to the proposed symphony concert for the high school students it was said that too much time would be taken from their studies. Surely one hour a year is not too much time to listen to the works of the masters.

Some of the school board members are to be congratulated on their determination to recognize the educational value of music, and it is to be hoped that the other members of the board will find time to learn more about the important place which good music occupies in the community and the world.

DEPUTY POLICE CHIEF

May I through your columns support the justifiable stand taken by Commissioner Gadsden, in not giving way to the unfounded recommendation of the chief of police, in selecting a new deputy police chief.

According to Chief McLellan, it is alleged there is no other person suitable, as a deputy chief; surely such a statement is most unjust, and tends to lower the morale and ambitions of other conscientious members of the police force.

The mayor is also in error, by stating a police chief does not require previous experience in lines of police administration; a well qualified police chief should be acquainted with all phases of police work, in order to effectually discharge these duties, as experience is the best teacher.

Far more harmony, and a better spirit of ambition would be created, if all individuals were given an equitable chance of having their names placed before the commissioners, if they sought a change, or promotion.

Further, a more practicable decision would be reached if a written or oral examination was held, open to all aspirants; length of satisfactory service should carry some weight.

HITTING SMALL PEOPLE

I have been surprised that no letters have appeared with regard to the transit strike. The stoppage of transportation has affected mostly the people who have a much smaller income than that of the strikers. It is always considered cowardly to injure those weaker than yourself, so this makes the strike a cowardly weapon. The ones with larger incomes have their own cars so are not affected.

With regard to the claim by the company of losses on transportation, a very successful transit scheme was operated for years by another company which offered to supply the whole of Victoria with transportation at a lower rate and to buy all equipment of the present company. It was so good a business that they were bought out to remove the threat of competition. If the streetcars were causing the loss they could have been replaced by buses any time prior to 1939.

C. E. STROUD.

A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the striking developments in the political battle between democracy and communism is the formation of a committee of exiled peasant leaders from the eastern European Slav satellites of Russia to inaugurate an anti-communist propaganda offensive with headquarters in Washington or London.

This fits in perfectly with your columnist's recent observation that freedom-loving people like the Slavs, who through the centuries have fought for their independence time and again, wouldn't indefinitely submit to the fierce regimentation of totalitarian communism. The ferment of freedom is at work in these small countries which have been communized by strong-arm methods.

IN GERMANY

However, significant as is this news it is far from being the complete picture of current trends. To this we must add the announcement by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor in Berlin, that the American military government is embarking on a new aggressive policy of defending before the German people the principles of freedom, and attacking communism.

Then we have the launching of Gen. de Gaulle's crusade against bolshevism in France. And the drastic step of Brazil and Chile in severing diplomatic relations with Moscow in protest against Red activities in those two countries.

Representatives of the Yugoslav, Rumanian, Bulgarian, Czechoslovak and Polish peasants met in London and laid plans for an all-out propaganda drive against communism, to be inaugurated as soon as the Polish peasant leader, Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who has just escaped from Communist-dominated Poland, reaches London or Washington.

PEASANT INTERNATIONAL

What these leaders project is a world peasant "international" to co-ordinate the fight against communism. This international is calculated to combat communism's new "Cominform" (Communist Information Bureau) which comprises the Soviet Union and its satellites in eastern Europe. The "Cominform" is generally regarded as a rejuvenation of the Comintern or Third International, which is the general staff for Red world revolution.

Meantime Jacques Duclos, French Communist leader, has announced that the Cominform can be joined by any Communist Party in the world—including those of the United States and Britain.

Moscow apparently is furious at the flight of Mikolajczyk from a hostile Red regime in Warsaw. The Moscow radio declared that he is a "cowardly fugitive" and a "sworn enemy of the new democratic Poland who was careful to take himself off in time." That expression "take himself off in time" certainly has an ominous ring.

Summary: The tide of resistance against Communist aggression is rising with increasing rapidity.

BIG WIND

T. D. F. in the Ottawa Citizen. Elmer Adams, laugh-provoker on the Detroit News, appears to be a meteorologist on the side. "The erratic conduct of that recent big wind," he says, "was amazing. It passed on from the Gulf states, disappeared, and then suddenly showed up as far north as New York, calling itself Vishinsky."

TO HIS ADVANTAGE

Washington Post. Every American should understand that our own ultimate security is wrapped up in the precarious tightrope that European nations are walking with our help. Our food-saving campaign is calculated on the bare minimum necessary to forestall starvation; even if the campaign succeeds in every detail, there will still be many empty bellies and drawn faces in Europe.

'BUSINESS' PREVAILS

Halifax Herald. Although Britons lack creature comforts, British industry is making spectacular strides in its reconstruction program. Indeed, current "business" is so marked in many centres that it has been difficult for the government to make the crisis clearly understood.

The crisis is essentially one of finance, rather than flagging production. And it is difficult to make people understand a crisis exists when factories are working busily.

U.S. Food Committee May Attain Grain Saving Goal Before Jan. 1

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles Luckman, chairman of the Citizens' Food Committee, said here the voluntary food conservation program was going so well that its objective of saving 100,000,000 bushels of wheat and grain to feed Europe's hungry may be achieved before Jan. 1. Luckman also told a press conference Monday other conservation measures might be instituted by Congress, but added that his committee probably would win up its immediate emergency task by the year's end.

Meanwhile, Congressional action before Christmas on aid to Europe and high prices was forecast by Senator Scott Lucas (Dem., Ill.) after a visit with President Truman. This statement coincided with another drop in hog prices at Chicago. Live hogs slipped 50 cents to $1.40 a hundred pounds, a total $4 of $4 since the first meatless day when top-quality animals commanded $30 a hundred. However, wheat hovered at the $3 level.

DRAFTS MESSAGE
Senator Lucas told reporters at the White House that President Truman is at work on the double-barreled program which he will present to the special session of Congress called for Nov. 17. He has appealed for emergency winter aid for Europe and inflation curbs.

The senator said he was happy to see Mr. Truman "tie the high price situation with foreign relief, since they go hand in hand." He predicted Congress will dispose of both problems in time for a Christmas holiday.

The first clear clues to President Truman's anti-inflation program are expected this week-end, with release of a special report by the President's Council of Economic Advisers. The report may indicate whether Mr. Truman's message to Congress will ask for allocations of grain and basic materials, as well as price controls at the producer level.

Union Toastmasters, No. 331, met at the Strathcona Hotel with Ben Franklin as chairman and Jim McCague, toastmaster. Speakers taking part in the program were Percy Rayment, Tom Hart, Charlie Miller and Bill McDonald-Miller. Frank Hyslop acted as chief critic. New members welcomed were Hunt Miller, Charlie Miller, Doug Dakers, Cliff Sluggett and James Greene.

Wisner To Stand For Election As Provincial Liberal Leader

Attorney-General and Labor Minister Gordon S. Wisner announced Tuesday night he would stand for election as provincial leader of the Liberal Party.

Mr. Wisner told the annual meeting of the Saanich Liberal Association at Liberal headquarters here that several prominent Liberals had asked that his name go before the provincial Liberal convention to be held Dec. 9, 10 and 11 at which a successor will be named to Premier John Hart, leader of the party, who has announced his intention to retire.

Mr. Wisner said he would permit his name to be submitted but he added that he would welcome the name of any other man or woman which is presented to the convention.

"That is my position and that is all I have to say on that question," Mr. Wisner said. He said he had no objection to make as to who the next premier of the province would be.

Likewise K. M. Lewis, retiring president of the association, spoke briefly of the successor to Mr. Hart as premier.

The difficulty, he said, was that there were two parties in the Coalition and naturally the Conservatives would like to name their man to be leader. He assured members of the association not to worry about reports of the possible end of the Coalition administration.

Mr. Lewis said, however, that the announcement of Mr. Hart that he would retire as party leader and premier had come as a heavy blow.

"He has served a magnificent term," he said.

The newly-elected president of the association, Arthur J. R. Ash, pledged the support of himself and the association to the Coalition government and said: "Certainly it must not be said on our part that we were responsible for breaking up the Coalition."

Mr. Wisner spoke of several problems confronting the government and Saanich.

COULD GET WATER

Saanich, he said, could get water if there was co-operation on all sides and that water should be sufficient not only for household use but also for irrigation.

"All citizens of Greater Victoria should pull together to get water in Saanich," he said.

Speaking of the appointment of Hon. Norman W. Whittaker to the B.C. Supreme Court, Mr. Wisner said Mr. Whittaker's selection had been a wise one and he would make a fine judge.

Mr. Wisner assured that farmers would have full hearing at discussions concerning the building up of British Columbia's fish and game resources for which a sustained program would be mapped not only to provide fish and game for the present but also for future generations.

Re-establishment of a Borstal type institution in Vancouver, Mr. Wisner indicated could be expected shortly.

Closing of the institution, at which rehabilitation is attempted of youthful criminals, was described by Mr. Wisner as a mistake. He added that Canada was 100 years behind Britain in care of youthful offenders.

"I think it will mean that many young men will be saved from the life of crime in this respect," he said.

IMPROVE BEER PARLORS

Assurance was given by the speaker that "we are lifting the face of beer parlors in this province," and citizens could expect improvements in the hotel services provided in connection with the operation of beer parlors.

He called for public support of the provincial government's program to educate the youth of the province in the proper use of alcohol and assured there would be great progress with that support.

"Something has got to be done to stop the widespread abuses brought on year after year," he said.

Speaking of the new contentious Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act's provisions for government-supervised pre-strike votes, Mr. Wisner said: "I think that it is a fair and a democratic provision and I think that it is accepted by the majority of labor men of this province as a fair and a good thing."

He noted that thousands of disputes between employers and employees had been settled without strikes under the provisions of the new act and that the only complaint against it was from some whose power had been whittled down.

In answer to charges that it was unfair for him as Attorney-General to have laid the charges and then as Labor Minister to sit as a board to determine points involved in the hearing of those charges, Mr. Wisner said he had no alternative and in making his ruling he would weigh all evidence as a judge.

"I intend to do my duty and the chips may fall where they may," he said.

Liberal Group Names Ottawa Ex-Alderman

Arthur J. R. Ash, proprietor of a Quadra Street store who had previously served on the city council in Ottawa and with the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps as a major, Tuesday night was unanimously elected president of the Saanich Liberal Association.

Mr. Ash, who is 43 years of age, was one of the youngest aldermen ever elected to the council when he served before the war. He succeeds K. M. Lewis.

Other officers were elected as follows: J. Mitchell, first vice-president; J. C. Saville, second vice-president; Mrs. J. M. McGee, third vice-president, and Lorne Thompson, fourth vice-president. The secretary-treasurer, H. A. Collings, was re-elected.

Delegates to the Nanaimo Federal Liberal Association were elected as follows: Mrs. A. Pass, A. K. Dodson and Mr. Lewis.

Honorary presidents are Prime Minister King and Premier John Hart. Attorney-General Gordon S. Wisner was named honorary vice-president, while Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., was re-elected honorary second vice-president.

The association passed a resolution calling on the federal government to implement at the earliest opportunity a scheme of national health insurance and hospitalization.

Victim Of Stabbing Saved By Red Cross

The doctor attending Dorothy Smith, who is in the Jubilee Hospital suffering from a knife wound in her abdomen which was inflicted Monday afternoon, has given credit to the Red Cross blood bank for saving the woman's life.

"When they brought her in she was near death," the doctor said. "However, because we were able to give her two whole blood transfusions and a plasma transfusion immediately from the Red Cross blood bank, her condition improved enough to let us perform the necessary operation."

Hospital officials say the woman's condition is now quite satisfactory.

Donations received today by the Mayor's Fund for Parcels to Britain included $237 from First United Church and $56 from the women's auxiliary to the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. In addition the First United Church donated a large quantity of groceries to be packed and sent.

Community Chest Aids As Illness Strikes Family

A man who finds himself faced with the problem of supporting six children in foster homes as well as paying for a long period of expensive medical and psychiatric treatment for his wife finds it insurmountable alone. And that is what happened to one man in Victoria.

He was a good workman, making $200 a month, but it costs $30 per month per child in the foster home, and this was where the Community Chest came in. From the funds contributed in the annual campaign, which this year requires $130,000, the difference between what the worried father could pay and what was needed, was paid.

It took him many weeks to swallow his pride enough to go to the Family Welfare and Children's Aid Society for advice after he saw his wife gradually getting worse and his children being neglected to the point where they were becoming juvenile delinquents.

However, when he did, he found sympathetic understanding and a quick willingness to help him with his problem. For nearly a year the organization kept the children in the foster homes while the mother was in hospital. When her health returned she was able to rejoin her family.

Up to the present sufficient has not been brought in to the Community Chest to even cover the $34,410 needed by this one agency, and without the necessary funds, cases such as this family will be without assistance.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Reid, 90 Linden Avenue, where Mrs. White and Mrs. MacLean assisted the young couple in receiving the guests, and A. J. Hourston proposed a toast to the bride.

For a motor trip on the mainland the bride wore a grey wool gabardine coat trimmed with Canadian squirrel over her wedding ensemble, and a mauve orchid corsage.

Father Donal Lehan officiated at the ceremony which took place at the Bishop's Palace, where baskets of tall white chrysanthemums had been arranged to make an attractive floral setting.

The bride, who is the former Marie Theresa McDonough, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonough, 948 Balmoral Road, was given in marriage by her father. She chose white brocade satin for her wedding gown, fashioned on princess lines, with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. She wore a double strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of red roses and swainsona.

Matron of honor was Mrs. E. Brophy, wearing a gown of peach taffeta with matching jacket, pink net gloves, shoulder veil and gold calot. Miss Diane Petres, niece of the groom, was junior bridesmaid, wearing a dress of white net over blue taffeta and bandeau of pink carnations in her hair.

Both attendants carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and chrysanthemums.

Supporting the groom, who is the son of Mr. Richard DeAth of Vancouver and the late Mrs. DeAth, was Earl Brophy, Gerald McDonough ushered.

A reception was held at the Kit Kat Annex, 523 Harbinger Street, where over 50 guests were welcomed by Mrs. McDonough and Mrs. Don Petres, sister of the groom. The lace-covered table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake flanked by white candles. A toast to the bride was proposed by Edward Wilcox, and during the evening at the request of the groom Mr. McDonough played "O Promise Me" as a violin solo.

In proposing a toast to the bride and groom, Harry Porter, a nephew from Vancouver, recalled the early days and the many neighborly acts that endeared the couple to those present at the gathering and many other friends.

Joyce Hardy And R. F. Green Wed In Candlelit Ceremony

Vancouver and Victoria families were linked Tuesday evening at a candlelit ceremony in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, when Joyce Gwendolyn Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Penn Wilson, of Vancouver, became the bride of Robert Francis Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Green, and grandson of Mrs. R. F. Green of Victoria, and the late Senator R. F. Green.

Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiated at the service, for which the church was decorated with white chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and made an attractive picture in a gown of ice blue satin fashioned with square neckline, long tapered sleeves, side panniers on the skirt, which was slightly en train. A shoulder-length veil of ice blue net was fastened to a coronet of gardenias, and she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia.

As matron of honor, Mrs. R. R. N. Taylor of Cultus Lake wore a dress of fuchsia net over pink taffeta, and feather hat en tone. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

Gordon A. Green was best man, and ushering were W. McCarter, Lawrence Munroe and Douglas Paterson.

A reception followed at the home of the groom's parents, where rose-colored chrysanthemums and pink carnations decorated the rooms. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Green received the guests, and a toast to the bride was proposed by William Melhuish of Vancouver.

Pink tapers in silver candleholders and a bowl of pink rosebuds decorated the bridal table, on which was placed a three-tier wedding cake topped with a tiny vase of bouvardia.

Leaving for a honeymoon at Harrison Hot Springs, the bride wore a dove grey woolen suit, matching hat draped with shaded emerald green scarf, emerald snakeskin shoes and bag, and gardenias en corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Green will reside at Trail, where the groom is a member of the Trail Times editorial staff.

HARVESTING THE SEA

SINCE THE DAYS OF SIR JOHN A. MacDONALD

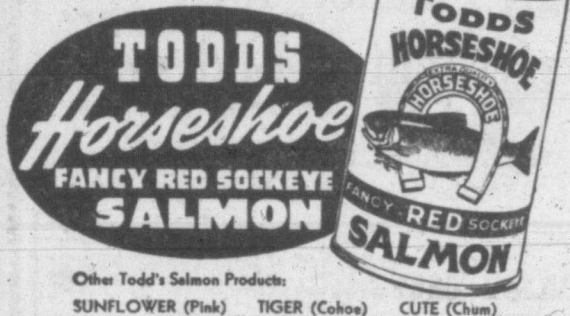

In 1881, five years before the last spike in the transcontinental line of the C.P.R. was driven, the House of Todd commenced fishing operations in Victoria which have continued unbroken to the present day.

For 60 years, Todd's brought to Canada the pick of Pacific coast seafoods... then, in 1941, the entire pack was diverted to overseas theatres of war, breaking a link with Canadian consumers reaching back to Sir John A. Macdonald.

We are pleased to announce that Todd's salmon is again available in Canada. This heralds the return of "Horseshoe" Sockeye Salmon... packed to the same pre-war standards which made it the very symbol of salmon perfection in Canada.

When you buy seafoods, look for the Todd label... none but the choicest bear it.

Ottawa Refuses License For Gordon Head Airpark Site

Ottawa has refused to allow the licensing of Gordon Head as a commercial airpark, Saanich Municipal Council was informed in a letter from W. S. Lawson, district representative for Western Airways, today.

Mr. Lawson's letter was included in one from G. M. Irwin, city engineer, in which he commented that Gordon Head could be developed only as an emergency landing field when graded, which would be better than leaving Victoria entirely without facilities.

Mr. Lawson said that Ottawa, after checking the length of each landing strip and the necessity of providing clearance of 14 feet at the roads, which exist at both ends of the strip, had stated: "In the circumstances we suggest that you cannot properly license this site, since one of the strips is short by 100 feet of the minimum length, and since it is certain that the approaches, even if they were cleared of buildings and trees, would not be clear of traffic on the roads."

Later the Ottawa letter stated: "If an airport is developed to meet our requirements, and if an application is made for licensing, a license will be issued."

Mr. Lawson said, however, that the site could be used by some aircraft, once it was properly graded, with pilots landing at their own risk. The development of the site, which was purchased by the city more than a year ago from War Assets for $20,000, would mean diversion of traffic on the roads.

Aircraft could not be based at Gordon Head, Mr. Lawson stressed, but private pilots could land if they wished to visit Victoria and not have the inconvenience of a long car ride into the city from Pat Bay.

Mr. Irwin informed the members of the aviation committee that the replies from Ottawa and from Mr. Lawson are a serious bar to the development of the area as an airpark, to be used for aircraft based on the field.

Several weeks ago, when the question of financing the project to develop the airpark came up, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., withdrew his support because it was planned by the Memorial Airpark Association to establish a flying school there. It was estimated it would cost thousands of dollars to do the necessary grading work to establish the runways. Saanich residents of the area have strongly opposed its establishment from the start.

1,000,000 Want Gas

LONDON (Reuters)—One of the largest petitions ever presented to Parliament, a call for the restoration of the basic gasoline ration, signed by 1,000,000 motorists, will be delivered to the House of Commons today.

Ten uniformed Automobile Association and Royal Automobile Club patrols will collect the bundles of completed forms from the petition office in London and will take them to the House for formal presentation to Parliament.

Course Just Suits British Invaders Seeking Ryder Cup

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The greens were wet, the fairways slow and more rain was in prospect at the Portland Golf Club today, but all that just made the British more confident than ever of victory in the Ryder Cup matches here next week-end.

"The duller the course, the better," said Henry Cotton, captain of the British team, which took its first look at the rolling, par 35-37-72 layout Monday.

Nine of the British professionals joined in describing the course as "almost like home," but the 10th team member, Sam King, dissented with "we've had a dry spell in England this year."

A few Portlanders insisted there had been a "dry spell" here too—only one and a half inches of rain the last week, and added that chances were that nothing but a "dry" rain would fall the rest of the week.

The Britons in their initial tour of the course had their introduction to the so-called Portland "dry" rain—scattered fine drops that dry on the clothes almost as they fall.

Even a steady "dry" rain, however, wets the ground, and both British and Americans found high shots plopping dead. Observers were surprised nevertheless at how well the Britons were hitting the ball after their long lay-off in the journey from England.

The six Americans on hand Monday also were playing well, but Herman Keiser commented that it was a "completely changed course from last summer."

The pros in a tournament then gave par a beating. Now they find the course five or six strokes longer per round because of heavy conditions.

No scores were turned in, but Dal Rees of the British team "estimated" he would have had a 33-37-70, two under par.

Byron Nelson of the Yanks toured the back nine twice and estimated he had two 37's, two over par.

The British were working over the course again today, and the last four "Americans" were expected to check in—Sam Snead, Ed "Porky" Oliver, Lew Worsham and Lloyd Mangrum. Already on hand are Herman Barron, Jimmy Demaret, Ben Hogan, E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, Keiser and Nelson.

Conservative Peers, M.P.'s Propose New House Of Lords

LONDON (AP)—Conservative peers and opposition members of the House of Commons were reported today to be working on plans to revise a government bill aimed at trimming the few remaining powers of the House of Lords.

Parliamentary sources said some foes of the government measure, while awaiting the end of debate on Winston Churchill's fourth parliamentary effort to amend the government would meet privately today to lay out their ideas for the future of the House of Lords.

These informants said that among the proposals to be considered at this meeting was one to change the membership of the ancient body from a hereditary basis to a chamber made up of men eminent in various walks of life, such as doctors, trade unionists, industrialists and artists.

Another possible proposal was one requiring that members of the House of Lords must have a certain specified period of public service behind them before they would be allowed to take their places in the upper chamber.

The government, apparently fearful of the Lords' opposition to nationalization of the iron and steel industry, has proposed that the House of Lords' power to delay legislation be cut from two years to once. The upper chamber, since 1911, has had no power to reject legislation; it can only delay.

Debate on Churchill's opposition resolution, calling for a virtual vote of no-confidence in the Attlee government, continued in the Commons Tuesday.

NEWSPAPER OPINIONS

The wartime Prime Minister's demand Tuesday for a British return to free enterprise along United States lines was greeted in British newspapers along strict party lines—an evident indication of the course observers felt the vote would take.

The Financial Times said editorially that Churchill had posed for the British people the question of "whether it is better to have freedom and inequality, or planning and organized scarcity."

"And," the paper added, "cannot the free price system find means of avoiding major trade fluctuations and permanent employment without sacrificing its freedom or its high productivity?"

"If the answer is yes—as many say—the Socialist Bank is turned."

To Rout Communists

BERLIN (Reuter)—The United States Military Government in Germany is to "launch an attack forthwith" on Communism throughout the American zone, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U.S. military governor, announced Tuesday. The nature of the "attack" was not specified.

German Women Replace Machines

Since the Russians have stripped all modern equipment from most of the soft coal mines in their zone of Germany, women must use their own power to haul coal to nearby brick factories in Senftenberg, as shown above. They are forced to work because most of the men were recruited by the Russians for work in the district's uranium mines. Due to the clothing shortage, many of the women miners work barefooted.

Leader Of Island Douks Retained Relief Fund, Probe Witness Says

SOUTH SLOCAN, B.C. (CP)—A Royal Commission today pondered conflicting testimony with regard to "between $5,000 and $8,000 collected among Sons of Freedom Doukhobors as members of the religious sect gathered at nearby Brilliant, B.C., to honor the memory of their first spiritual leader, Peter (Lordly) Verigin.

Peter and eight other persons were killed 23 years ago today when a Canadian Pacific Railway coach was blown up at Farron, B.C.

EVENTS AT TOMB

Ceremonies were scheduled later today at Peter's tomb, itself the target of terrorist bombs in the 40-year-old internecine strife which has sent a wave of incendiarism throughout the pastoral Kootenay Valley causing damage estimated at more than $200,000 this year and more than $1,000,000 since the turn of the century.

On Tuesday the commission, which did not sit today because of the ceremonies at the tomb at Brilliant, about 12 miles south of here, heard Florence Posnikoff testify that between $5,000 and $8,000 was collected by Michael (The Archangel) Verigin to aid "widows, orphans and cripples." The commission hearings will be resumed tomorrow.

The pretty, dark-haired woman, second wife of John Lebedoff of Krestova, B.C., a member of the Sons, said she knew none of the money had been used for this purpose and that no money was returned when Michael and his followers broke with the sect to form their own community at Hilliers, on Vancouver Island.

She alleged that all collections had been made by Paul D. Teresoff, Bill Zukoff and John J. Popoff, and that action had been started by the Sons against Verigin and his followers for recovery of the money.

Teresoff, a resident of Krestova, B.C., testified that "a small amount—between $200 and $500—had been spent on repairs to dwellings within Krestova."

He admitted a store had been built at Krestova and placed under Michael's management.

ORPHANS NOT HELPED

Zukoff, who followed Teresoff to the stand, denied the latter's evidence was correct, but did state that "out of the sum collected, none was used to help orphans and widows." He denied that Michael Verigin ran the store, which he said cost more than $3,000, saying it was under administration of the elders.

"The store was later burned down," he said, "because a party of Sons of Freedom told the elders that 'this work belongs to Jews and not to Christians.'" He stated there was approximately $5,000 in the bank when he ceased to be a trustee of the funds.

Zukoff stated the money was collected "for use at the elders' discretion," adding "as far as I know, they have used it to buy lands in Hilliers."

L. Spielmanns, provincial Land Settlement Board inspector, was the first witness to testify during resumption of the hearings which began Oct. 14 for three days and then adjourned until Tuesday.

He stated that the total rents payable yearly by the Doukhobors in the Kootenay Valley amounted to "approximately $5,066."

Of this amount, he said, only $3,000 was collected this year "due to abnormal conditions in the district."

"Nobody paid willingly," he

13 Filipinos Missing

MANILA (AP)—The Philippine customs bureau reported Tuesday 13 Filipinos were missing in the sinking of a fishing boat, the Lady Aida, off the Island of Mindoro, south of Luzon, Monday night. Another vessel rescued 16 others.

Douglas J. Rivette has written Mayor Percy George asking that support be given to aiding graduates of the Vancouver School for the Deaf in getting trades training and finding jobs. He suggested that the school, although provincially operated, could participate in Community Chest benefits for this trades training.

Navy League Asks $1,500 From City

A grant of $1,500, to completely redecorate Prince Robert House has been requested from the City Council by the Navy League of Canada for 1948.

Forrest L. Shaw, president, explained that the Navy League desires to maintain the premises at Prince Robert House to serve navy personnel, as well as ex-service personnel of all branches. He suggested that the rent of $1,440 for 1948 could be waived or the outright grant given.

He stressed that the Navy League has already spent $45,000 in major alterations, renovation and equipment at Prince Robert House, as well as $12,000 on maintenance and repairs, and $3,500 for a new heating plant.

He said the Navy League was operating on a $3,000 or $4,000 deficit at the moment, but hoped to break even shortly on operations.

Tourist Revenue Gains, Says Eyres

Trade and Industry Minister Leslie H. Eyres today predicted B.C.'s 1947 revenue from the tourist industry would exceed by a considerable amount the $35,000,000 total set in 1947.

Mr. Eyres reported last month 21,596 automobiles entered B.C. through border customs ports or travelers' vehicle permits. This compared with 19,997 in September, 1946, he said.

For the nine months ending Sept. 30, the total number of cars entering from U.S. was 172,064, compared with 147,643 during the corresponding period of 1946—an increase of 15 per cent.

"This is very gratifying and should more than offset the decline in individual expenditures," said Mr. Eyres. "The tendency on the part of the individual to scale down his expenditures from the level of 1946 has been very noticeable all over the continent. However, the substantial increase in volume leads us confidently to expect an increase in revenue, although not perhaps to the extent of 15 per cent."

In 1945 B.C.'s tourist industry was estimated to have brought $22,000,000 to the province.

University of Washington chopped through Stanford's line to hack out a 25 to 0 victory for its first Pacific Coast Conference win at Seattle.

Leo Durocher's Baseball Plans Still Deep Secret

BROOKLYN (AP)—What does the self-styled father and son team of Branch Rickey and Leo Durocher talk about during those mystery confabs in the Dodgers' offices these days?

The big question in baseball circles is, of course, whether Durocher will be back to manage the Dodgers next year, now that his suspension for the 1947 season has been terminated officially by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

"They discussed a matter personal to Leo and having nothing to do with baseball," Harold Parrott, secretary of the Brooklyn baseball club, announced after an hour-long session yesterday.

The only safe assumption for the public to make concerning the topic of discussion, therefore, is that the president of the Dodgers and his former manager just talked about the sporting goods business—a new enterprise Leo is entering in Beverly Hills.

During Durocher's last visit here for the series, he had a lengthy conference described then as "merely a social visit" with his former boss.

"There's nothing for them to talk about on that score," a Dodger front office man said before yesterday's confab when asked whether Rickey and Durocher would discuss the job question. "They did plenty of talking the last time, and they understand each other perfectly."

Rickey announced through his secretary last night, however, that he "undoubtedly" would talk baseball with Leo "within the next couple of days."

Leo Nicholson Dies After Long Illness

VANCOUVER (CP)—Leo Nicholson, 52, dean of western Canadian sports announcers, died here Tuesday following a lengthy illness.

A pioneer in the broadcasting of box lacrosse—which he called "the fastest game on two feet"—Leo also made a name for himself as a hockey announcer, broadcasting National Hockey League games in Montreal and Pacific Coast League contests here.

A native of Winnipeg and a veteran of naval air service in the First Great War, Nicholson for several years wrote a sports column for the Vancouver News-Herald. He was a tireless worker on Christmas charity shows and war bond drives.

He is survived by his widow.

Vic High Greens Defeat Esquimalt To Top Rugby Loop

Scoring their second straight win in the interhigh school junior rugby loop, Victoria High Greens took over the league leadership yesterday, pinning a 6 to 0 defeat on Esquimalt High, a new entry. Second game saw Oak Bay Whites edge Oak Bay Greens, 3 to 0.

In the Vic High-Esquimalt game, winners started off with the whistle and scored at the five-minute mark, forward Albert Marks gaining credit for the tally. Esquimalt fans began to apply the pressure, but weakness in the scrum, coupled with some smart defensive play by Greens held the suburbanites from the score sheet.

Greens started right in again after the breather with Bob Rowe scoring at the six-minute mark, but referee Joe Andrews disallowed the try. This caused a steady Vic High offensive, which finally paid dividends 10 minutes from time. Gordy McLaren scoring Conversion failed.

Oak Bay Whites held the majority of the play in the affair against their school chums, but were unable to notch a tally in the first half. Halfway through the second, Bob Smith scored the only points of the game, going over from a five-yard scrum. Albert Massick stood out for losers.

Many of the favored runners, which finished far in the race as Fairley Fulmar staged his surprising charge, were coupled with Whiteway, winner of the Oct. 18 Cesarewitch, on doubles bets that would have paid fabulous returns. Newspaper columnists said one professional bettor had Whiteway and Mighty Maharatta coupled in bets which would have netted $1,200,000 if the three-year-old colt owned by the Maharaja of Baroda had raced to expectations.

Los Angeles (AP)—The world welterweight champion, Sugar Ray Robinson of New York, toyed through six rounds of a scheduled 10-round non-title fight with California Jackie Wilson last night and then, after the referee asked for more activity, unloosed some dynamite in the seventh and won by a technical knockout.

Robinson smacked Wilson to the canvas with two hard ones to the jaw as the seventh opened. The Californian, glassy-eyed, got up after a count of six and ran into another torrent of blows. Referee Abe Roth stopped the fight after one minute, 35 seconds of the seventh.

Each fighter weighed 150½.

Faurey Fulmar Upsets Cambridgeshire Field

NEWMARKET, Suffolk, Eng. (CP)—Faurey Fulmar, 28-to-1 longshot, today galloped home the winner in the Cambridgeshire, last big flat race of the British season and one of the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes events.

Favorites, including Mighty Maharatta, were nowhere in the money as the biggest field since 1935—39 horses—thundered over the finish line in a tight finish.

Joan's Star, at 100 to 1, was second a neck behind and Admiral's Yarn at 33 to 1 was 1½ lengths farther back in third place.

Faurey Fulmar, born of a totally blind mare, First Flight, was given a rousing ride by apprentice Tommy Goslin, 20, who held off a challenge by Joan's Star, making her third attempt to win the big event.

Time for the nine furlongs was 1:54 1-5.

Crowds stormed around the colt and jockey as they were led to the winner's enclosure by owner G. A. Tachmindi. It was Faurey Fulmar's last race as he is being retired to stud.

One million pounds hung on the result as, apart from its connection with the Irish Sweepstakes, the race was the second-half of the famous autumn double. Those who had picked the winner of the Cesarewitch could try to couple their victory with today's winner.

Had the favorite, Mighty Maharatta, won, many bookmakers would have lost a fortune.

EARLY LEADERS

Lord Nelson, Red Flag and Toronto were leading the pack at the halfway mark but at the famous "dip," Faurey Fulmar began to gain ground.

Admiral's Yarn by this time was in front but the charging Faurey Fulmar overhauled him and stood off the challenge of Joan's Star.

Red Flag was fourth, Porter's Choice fifth and Mighty Maharatta sixth.

Other finishers were: Someo, seventh, Fine Prospect, eighth, one-eyed Vagabond II, ninth and Osmandus 10th.

Faurey Fulmar carried 129 pounds, next to the top-weighted French entry, Vagabond II, which had 131 pounds up.

The winner was by Lord Astor's Fair Trial.

In his previous three races he had been fourth, third and second.

MAINTAINS TRADITION

Mighty Maharatta's defeat maintained the Cambridgeshire tradition that a favorite seldom wins. The last favorite to win was Palais Royal II in 1928.

Under Irish Sweepstakes rules, the holders of tickets on the winning horse get about £25,000 ($100,000), on the second horse £10,000 and on the third £5,000.

Holders of tickets on unplaced horses get smaller prizes.

Faurey Fulmar's purse in the weight-for-age race was $13,808 but this sum paled in insignificance compared with the heavy betting on the race.

Many of the favored runners, which finished far in the race as Fairley Fulmar staged his surprising charge, were coupled with Whiteway, winner of the Oct. 18 Cesarewitch, on doubles bets that would have paid fabulous returns. Newspaper columnists said one professional bettor had Whiteway and Mighty Maharatta coupled in bets which would have netted $1,200,000 if the three-year-old colt owned by the Maharaja of Baroda had raced to expectations.

THAT much-advertised soccer case of Mr. Bill Fidler vs. St. Andrews' players is back in the limelight. Now it appears there is a chance Fidler will return to the fold. There was a little get-together over the weekend between Fidler and Johnny Newbold, leader of the player faction that was behind the recent uprising which culminated in Fidler turning in his resignation. Joke of the week: Fidler blaming "pressure of business" for his retirement as manager of Canada's soccer champions.

WHETHER Fidler goes back on his own terms or agrees to operate the club under the conditions as laid down by the players remains to be seen. The matter will be dealt with once and for all at a meeting of the club scheduled some time this week. Chatting to a number of the players, when the Scots were in Victoria last week-end, I found divided opinion. Some were in favor of approaching Fidler in an effort to iron out the difference, while others were just as ready to leave him on the sidelines and appoint another manager. But all the players were agreed on one point and that was to defeat the United and prove they could operate without the guiding hand of the man who master-minded them into a Canadian championship. After that 4 to 0 victory, all the boys were particularly happy.

AS FORECAST in this column yesterday, the National Hockey League clubs are making a move to lend help to the lagging Chicago Black Hawks, but it is doubtful aid. First to come up with a deal is Connie Smythe of Toronto Leafs and, like the famous Shylock and his pound of flesh, Smythe seeks to give quantity for quality. The boss of the Stanley Cup champions is willing to give Chicago four or five players; he fails to disclose their identity, for Max Bentley. All he wants is to pick off the scoring champion of the N.H.L. Just imagine the holler around the Chicago Stadium if the Hawks let Bentley go. It's fine for Toronto as Bentley might just prove the spark to lead the Leafs to another Stanley Cup. In the Saskatchewan comet and Syl Apps the Leafs would have the two smartest centres in big-time hockey. Chicago is more interested in putting out cold cash for players rather than making deals involving either of the Bentley boys.

IF YOUTH and enthusiasm mean anything, the Victoria Rugby Union should come up with a top-notch McKechnie Cup squad this season. The rugby leaders this week elected to go along with a number of the younger element in selecting the men to handle the 1947-48 edition of the Crimson Tide. In Bert Buller and Campbell Forbes, named manager and coach, respectively, the Tide will have two fellows willing to give of their time and experience to build a powerful unit. Placing of Bill Gornall and Tom McKechnie on the selection committee gives that group two young men familiar with the players of today and fully qualified to make their selections with a first-hand knowledge of the material at hand.

12,000 Mexican Fans See Feller In Action

GUADALAJARA, Mex. (AP)—A record of 12,000 baseball fans jammed Municipal Stadium Sunday to watch Bob Feller's All Stars blank the Pacific Coast Stars, 2 to 0, in an exhibition game. It was Guadalajara's largest turnout for a ball game. Feller pitched six innings for his stars, fanning four, walking two and allowing three hits.

Toronto-Canadiens In First Clash Of Season

Last spring's Stanley Cup finalists get their first crack at each other of the new season tonight when the National Hockey League whirligig swirls into action with the first three-game session of the fall.

For Montreal Canadiens, at present sharing top spot in the loop with Boston Bruins, it's a chance to take a swipe at the champion Toronto Maple Leafs who defeated them in hockey's world series and at the same time demonstrate that they're as much improved as people have been saying.

The game at Toronto will give an inkling on whether the teams are as evenly matched as last year, when in 12 league games with Toronto, Canadiens won five, tied four and lost three. A win is a must for the Canadiens because it could consolidate their top-ranking position should Boston lose in their encounter with Rangers at New York.

Toronto, tied with Detroit in second place, also needs a victory to offset a possible Red Wing victory at Chicago where the third game of the night is being played.

Meanwhile, talk of what first seemed to be major hockey's fanciest player swap in years—an attempt to give the tail-end Black Hawks a blood transfusion—petered out into a tale of reported offers.

REJECT CASH OFFER

President Bill Tobin of the Hawks told reporters he had offered the Leafs $15,000 each for Gus Bodnar and Elwyn Morris. He added that the Leafs refused a $25,000 offer for Bob Goldham last Saturday.

Comment from managing director Conny Smythe of the Leafs was: "I've repeatedly told Tobin that we are after players, not money. He wasn't interested in any even deals. Then he was offered a deal that would give him five players for one (Max Bentley) and he hasn't even replied to that."

Smythe had a different version of the Goldham "$25,000 offer."

"Tobin offered $15,000 for Goldham," he said. "I asked Hap Day (Leafs' coach) what Goldham was worth and he said $25,000. Tobin then asked if I'd take $25,000 and I told him I'd answer that one when he made a formal offer."

Plan Tax On Senior Sports To Finance Junior Athletes

HALIFAX (CP)—Widespread approval by sports officials greeted a recommendation by the civic recreation committee that legislation be introduced at the next session of the Nova Scotia Legislature to tax all sports events in the city up to 3 per cent of gate receipts to finance junior sport.

Most officials were quick to agree that minor teams in the past had been "pretty well neglected" by senior leagues and teams that depend on the junior circuit for replacements. They declared that such a tax could make Halifax one of the leading sports cities in the Dominion.

Mayor J. E. (Geed) Ahern, former sports editor of a Halifax newspaper and an all-around athlete in his day, is in favor of the scheme and at the same time has advanced his own plans for a huge new civic stadium. He estimated a tax of 2 per cent on athletic events would bring in about $3,500, this to be in addition to a similar amount received from boxing and wrestling shows.

Harry Butler, president of the Halifax and District Baseball League, said he personally is in favor of a small tax "as a good booster in helping junior sport."

Melbourne Cup To Attract 100,000 For Running Nov. 4

SYDNEY (AP)—Australia's horse trainers are sharpening their thoroughbreds for the classic two-mile Melbourne Cup race, the country's top turf event.

A tremendous amount of money is wagered on the race and the occasion also serves as a setting for a fashion parade, such as at Ascot meetings and at Europe's foremost turf courses. More than 100,000 fans are expected to witness the race. Melbourne hotels have been booked solidly for months.

The Melbourne is Australia's richest horse race. First place will be worth $22,680.

Originally 500 gallopers were entered for the race scheduled to be run at Flemington track, Melbourne, Nov. 4. Two weeks before the event the field had fallen to 136; when final acceptances are declared Oct. 30 probably 35 to 40 horses will remain.

IMPORTANT DOUBLE

The Melbourne Cup is the second leg of a popular double with the winner of the Caulfield Cup, which this year was run Oct. 18. The favorite, Columist, won the 1947 Caulfield Cup, and if either of the two four-year-old favorites, the stallion Proctor or the mare Sweet Chime, wins the Melbourne Cup, bookmakers will be up for something like $1,620,000 in "doubles" payouts. Some of these bets were laid months ago at fantastically long odds when it was uncertain whether Columist, Proctor, or Sweet Chime would start either of the two big races.

One Sydney racehorse owner, F. J. Lussick, held Columist-Practor-doubles tickets to collect $64,800 for an outlay of less than $324. Part of this doubles bet he sold to a bookmaker for $5,832 after Columist won the first leg.

Brooklyn Fans Best In Baseball—Stanky

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Does the roar of the faithful at Ebbets Field have any effect on the winning habits of Brooklyn Dodgers?

"It most certainly does," says Eddie Stanky, the scrappy little second sacker, who credits that old college cry with a big assist in the Dodgers' 1947 successes. Stanky rates Brooklyn fans tops.

"They're the world's greatest," he said. "They're with you win, lose or draw, and you feel like a heel to let them down."

When the six-piece band in left field gets going and the fans start whooping it up for the home side, something unexplainable happens to you.

Seattle Rainiers In Tie-up With Detroit

SEATTLE (AP)—President Emil Sick and general manager Earl Sheely of the Seattle Rainiers went over a proposed player-tieup contract offered by the Detroit Tigers today, made a few revisions and mailed it back to Billy Evans, Tigers general manager, for approval.

Under the contract, he said, the Rainiers are guaranteed at least five acceptable players under option from Detroit for 1948 and

British-U.S. Cup Golfers Smash Par On Portland Links

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Americans have looked the hottest in practice rounds, but what will happen when the Ryder Cup golf matches open here Saturday?

The non-playing strategist and manager of the British team, R. S. Roe, confides that Britain will manage to sneak home with the victory.

To point up his statement were the scores turned in yesterday by three of his players—a 69 for Charley Ward on the par 72 Portland Golf Club course; a 70 for Reg Horne and a 71 for Dal Rees. These were more than matched, however, by four of the Yanks—E. J. (Dutch) Harrison coming in with a 66, Herman Keiser and Ed (Porky) Oliver getting 68s and Byron Nelson a 69.

The four best-ball teams will not be announced until Friday night, just before the draw to determine Saturday pairings. The eight singles players also will not be announced until Saturday night, just before the draw for concluding play Sunday.

Expel Navy Student For Ticket Racket

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A midshipman has been expelled from the United States Naval Academy as an aftermath to detection of "irregularities in the handling" of tickets to last week's Penn-Navy game at Philadelphia, an academy spokesman announced last night.

The midshipman, Frederick W. Lauer, Wilmette, Ill., had been confined to quarters since Oct. 15, when a man the navy identified as Harry Rubin, Philadelphia, was apprehended on academy grounds with 400 game tickets in his possession.

The spokesman said Rubin had signed a statement to the effect another Philadelphia man had asked him to come to the academy and "pick up a bundle from midshipman Lauer."

An investigation showed, the spokesman said, that Lauer, a first classman, had "obtained the tickets from individual midshipmen of junior classes who turned over their applications to him in good faith."

Western Mustangs Have No Plans To Seek Canadian Title

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—University of Western Ontario Mustangs, top-heavy favorites to capture the senior intercollegiate rugby title, will not challenge for the Grey Cup and the Canadian championship.

Johnny Metras, coach of the team which is undefeated in 15 straight college games, said emphatically there isn't a chance in the world his team will challenge for the Grey Cup. And he also turned down suggestions the Mustangs play a post-season exhibition series with a team from the eastern Interprovincial Union. After their game with University of Toronto Nov. 15, the great western squad will disband for the season.

In years gone by the big eastern college squads took part in Grey Cup playoffs, but the rules of the Intercollegiate Athletic Union now forbid such post-season competition. The last time the college boys took a fling at the Canadian championship was in 1935, when Hamilton Tigers defeated Queen's University 44 to 4 in the east final. Winnipeg Blue Bombers then beat Tigers 18 to 12 to win the Grey Cup.

Dr. G. E. Hall, president of Western University, said that the school is not interested in post-season play regardless of any demand for such games.

Jackie Turner To Fight Tony Olivera

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A boxing card that will pit recent victors and defeated in the Portland ring has been announced for the auditorium here Friday, Nov. 7, by promoter Tex Salkeld. The matchmaker said Aurel Toma, the Romanian, had signed for $1,000 to fight Joey Clemo, young Portlander, while Tony Olivera, San Francisco, who lost to Clemo recently, will fight Jackie Turner, Vancouver.

Salesmanship Makes Hospital Patient Want Wholesome Food

Mealtime looms as an all important event to the hospital patient, second only to the doctor's visit or the visiting hours, according to Miss E. M. Yvonne Love, consultant on nutrition, health branch, B.C. Department of Health and Welfare, who addressed delegates to a hospital administration conference in Empress Hotel today.

The problems of cost, quantity and preparation of food were discussed by Miss Love in her address titled "Food to the Fore."

"Although the patient is on his back and cannot always speak for himself, as much salesmanship is necessary in presenting food to him as is necessary in commercial food establishments, where the utmost in advertising is used to keep up the volume of business," Miss Love said. "Through clever salesmanship, the patient can be made to want and accept and enjoy the wholesome food which is available on the menu."

The patient, as a well-satisfied customer, builds up the reputation of a hospital, Miss Love told her audience.

From the standpoint of food economies she stated that a 1 per cent saving on the over-all dietary expenditure for one year would amount to $12,500.

G. Ruddick, superintendent of the Vancouver General Hospital, spoke on "The Hospital Laundry," and M. J. Madeley, chief engineer of Royal Jubilee Hospital, spoke on "The Functions of the Maintenance Department."

Body Recovered

Body of Walter Kenneth Anderson, former officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, one of four persons believed drowned Oct. 12 while journeying by small boat from Ucluelet to a Kennedy Lake logging operation, has been recovered at Ucluelet, police headquarters reported here today.

Anderson was from Vancouver. Two other persons are still missing, believed drowned.

Still Need $100,000 For Community Chest; Appeal For Workers

The total collected for the Community Chest is slowly climbing, with $30,429 reported in today. This leaves $100,000 still to collect if the work of the 19 "red feather" agencies is to be continued during 1948, officials stressed.

Residential canvass has turned in the largest amount, $17,836, although 50 more canvassers are urgently needed, Mrs. A. H. Cox, chairman of the division, reiterated today.

The business canvass has brought in $11,191, industrial $1,078, and rural $324.

In making her plea, Mrs. Cox said: "There are 200 canvassers out now, and they are doing a grand job, but some districts will not be touched unless we can reach 50 more people willing to donate some of their time."

She said that transportation to difficult places will be provided for anyone who telephones the Community Chest office at B-4200, B-4209 or B-3218. If the volunteers will state the times they wish to canvass they will be picked up at their homes, delivered to the canvassing district, and taken home afterwards.

Koksilah Trainman Loses Breach Of Promise Action

The damage action for breach of promise of George William Brownlee, C.N.R. trainman at Koksilah, against Florence Elizabeth Partridge, widow, of Vancouver, was dismissed today in a judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Wilson.

In giving reasons for his decision, the judge said that although he accepted the plaintiff's evidence as true, he was dismissing the action due to "immoral considerations."

If I am wrong in this conclusion, let me say that I would not in any case, have awarded the plaintiff more than $5 damages, without costs," the judge said.

Commenting in general on cases where men sue women for breach of promise, Mr. Justice Wilson said that in this age of equality of sexes it was quite possible for a man to suffer damage. "There is no rule of law which holds that a male, even a middle-aged and experienced male such as this plaintiff, may not be led into ways of sin by a woman who promises that she will marry him," he said.

Mr. Justice Wilson said he had rejected Mrs. Partridge's denial of an illicit relationship and promise to marry.

Police Car Radio Set-up Value Shown In Gunman Chase

Officials of the B.C. Police are hoping for early delivery of equipment to fit its force cars with two-way radio set-up. The equipment has been on order for some time. B.C. Police were recently allotted a wavelength for a province-wide police car radio system.

Deputy Commissioner John Shiras, who will take over command of the force Saturday, reports he hopes to have a two-way radio system in all cars by April next year.

He points out that the program is governed by finances and material. While there is a certain amount on hand, there is not sufficient for the whole scheme. Organized areas on the island, he said, which are policed by his force will be asked to share in the cost of the radio program.

City and Saanich radio-equipped police cars played a major role in bringing the chase for Lorne Clark, Vancouver, to a successful conclusion Saturday night following two armed holdups.

Since the B.C. Police borrowed radio equipment was called back earlier this year, the force has strongly felt its need. Radio-equipped cars for police work has played an invaluable role in speeding the work of officers of the law.

Esquimalt police cars are also without radio equipment.

Found Guilty Of Clothing Theft

Edward Hunt, Vancouver, was found guilty in city police court today on a charge of theft of one suit of clothes valued at $65, several pieces of underwear and a pair of socks, the property of Bert Yesowick, Westholme Hotel, and was remanded until tomorrow for sentence by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Det.-Sgt. Henry Jarvis told the court of his visit with Detective A. Munro to the steamer Princess Joan berthed at the C.P.R. docks on the night of Oct. 24 and finding Hunt with the socks on and in possession of the other articles. He arrested the accused.

Yesowick identified the clothing as that which was taken from his room in the hotel. Edith Wilson, Esquimalt drydock, testified she had darned the same pair of socks for Yesowick. David Waddell produced the register to show that Hunt signed in at the hotel Oct. 23.

In the witness box Hunt said he had bought the clothing from a merchant seaman in a veterans' club for $10.

60 Days To Repair District Schools

SOOKE—The fire marshal has issued orders to the Sooke School Board that it must provide adequate fire exits and furnace rooms for seven of the schools in the district within 60 days. E. H. Emery, chairman of the school board, announced today.

A by-law, asking approval for a $60,000 school loan, to make the necessary repairs on the seven schools, and also to build three new schools is being placed before the ratepayers of the district Saturday.

The seven schools so condemned by the fire marshal are Colwood, Happy Valley, Langford, Metcheson, Milne's Landing, Otter Point and Sooke.

Voters' List Closes Friday At City Hall

The city voters' list will close Friday for the December elections, it was announced today at the city clerk's office.

To date 512 new voters have been registered, as compared with 595 at the same date last year.

Those who must go to the city clerk's office to register are non-property owners who qualify as householders by payment of road and poll tax. Those who can produce exemptions from payment of the tax, such as old-age pensioners, must also register if they wish to vote.

General classifications call for the voter to be over 21, British subject and resident within the city since Jan. 1.

Hospitals Crowded By Persons Not Requiring Treatment

A survey of British Columbia hospitals conducted late last year showed today that two in every 15 patients are convalescent or in hospital unnecessarily.

Details of the survey were disclosed in the annual report of Percy Ward, chief inspector of hospitals and institutions, to Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson.

"This problem, and the heavy expense and the shortage of hospital beds created by it, would appear to require a co-operative action, in which the hospitals themselves must unavoidably take an active part," said the report.

The report went on to say that information supplied does not give the number of days these problem cases stayed in hospital, but it is known they stay in hospital much longer than other types.

"Despite the fact that the department offers hospital clearance assistance to hospitals that request it, less than one-quarter of these problem cases are ever reported through the channels appointed to deal with this problem," the report said.

The report said that the total number of hospital employees had increased during 1946 by 559, or 12.31 per cent. The number of graduate nurses increased by 206 per cent, while clerks increased by 70.19 per cent, orderlies and ward helpers by 25.14 per cent, technicians by 5.52 per cent, internes by 46.67 per cent, and other employees by 24.81 per cent.

"Exclusive of board, lodgings and laundry, the cash salaries paid to all employees increased by $799,544," the report said.

Number of persons under care increased by 17,750 and the number of days' treatment by 80,951.

Average days' stay of persons discharged and died during 1946 was 10.74, a decrease of 0.77 compared with 1945. This compares with the average days' stay for 1941 was 12.84, representing a decrease of 2.10 days or 16.36 per cent.

The average occupancy of all the hospitals combined was 75.79 per cent as compared with 74.56 per cent in 1945, the report said.

Must Protect Women Says Prosecutor

A young man who was found guilty on two counts of indecent assault for minor offences and on one common assault charge, was remanded in custody at the order of Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court this morning when city prosecutor C. L. Harrison said he was strongly opposed to defence counsel Joseph McKenna's plea of a suspended sentence "because we have got to protect our women on the streets at night."

A clergyman witness said the accused was a good boy, but "undeveloped."

Hiking Bandsman Tells Of Travels

Phil Allen, former R.C.A.F. bandsman and University of Alberta student who heard, and answered, the call of the north, was the guest speaker at the Victoria Electric Club luncheon yesterday. Allen, who comes from North Battleford, Saskatchewan, stands six-foot-three, was wearing when he arrived in Victoria a few days ago after an adventurous trek over the old trails of the 1898 Gold Rush.

Allen reached Victoria exactly six months from the day he left Edmonton with but 10 cents in his pocket, and in that time covered over 6,000 miles. The story of his travels was an interesting one, well and amusingly told. Photos, skins, beadwork, copies of old-time northern newspapers, and souvenirs gathered along the trail were examined by the members, who thoroughly enjoyed the tale of his adventures.

Milk Price Boosted For Duncan Area

The price milk consumers will pay in the Duncan area has been adjusted in line with the 2-cent a quart boost effected last week for the Greater-Victoria area.

By order-in-council the retail price has been boosted 2 cents so that milk in the Duncan area will sell at 17 cents per quart for standard 3.5 milk and 19 cents per quart for special milk.

A 1-cent boost has been effected in retail milk prices for Vancouver.

The new prices will be effective Nov. 1.

Port Alberni Mills Donate $50,000

PORT ALBERNI — Each of Port Alberni's two large lumber mills today donated $25,000 to the Community Chest.

Their donations brought the total sum raised to date to $75,000 or 75 per cent of the Chest objective for this year. The announcements were made by C. Y. Robson of Bloedel, Stewart & Welch Co. Ltd. and R. Pendleton of Alberni Pacific Lumber Company.

Donations from the mills were made under the following conditions:

1. That such funds be earmarked specifically for construction of a new hospital and be put in a trust for the purpose;
2. That the funds be not used until the full money required for completion of such a building be in sight;
3. That each company have a representative on the board of trustees administering such a fund.

An additional donation of $500 to the general chest fund was made by Bloedel, Stewart & Welch Co.

Up-Island Centres Want Breakwaters

Three resolutions from up-island boards of trade asking for the construction of breakwaters in their districts will be considered by the executive council of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island when it meets tonight at Nanaimo. The resolutions will come from Qualicum, Tofino and Campbell River. It will be up to the meeting to decide if the requests are justified, and, if so, to what extent the A.B.T.V.I. should go in pressing the Dominion government to carry out the recommendations.

The matter of island roads will also be discussed by the council. All members have been studying the present road system in order to bring suggestions before tonight's meeting. If the meeting can bring agreement amongst the council members on just what the boards of trade on this island want in the way of roads, it is likely some recommendation will be forwarded from the meeting to Works Minister E. C. Carson at the Parliament Buildings.

Attending the meeting from Victoria will be: H. Cuthbert Holmes, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce; J. V. Johnson, immediate past president of the A.B.T.V.I., and George I. Warren, association secretary.

Walks More

Joseph McKenna, counsel, questioning a male witness in a city police court common assault trial this morning: "Do you often take walks?" Witness answered: "Oh, yes, especially these days"—alluding to lack of public transportation due to the strike. The man had gone out of the house with his daughter to see if they could locate the man who had hit her on the back. They found the party, who was found guilty of the offence.

Building permits have been issued to the provincial government to erect a Quonset hut at 534 Michigan Street, for offices, costing $12,000; to Admiral Percy Nelles for $5,000 alterations to a house at 620 St. Charles Street and to A. Carmichael for $2,330 alterations to a store at 823 Pandora Avenue.

The city of New Westminster has authorized a tag day for parcels for Britain, Mayor Percy George was informed today, to be held Nov. 15. The city of Kamloops is also undertaking to send food parcels to commemorate the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and has asked the city for information regarding the best foods to include in the parcels.

The request of the Native Sons of Canada that one of the streetcars be preserved as a historical relic will be forwarded by the City Council to the B.C. Electric Railway Company it was decided at Monday's City Council meeting, with the request that the oldest streetcar be presented to the city. Ald. H. M. Diggon commented it should be preserved as a historic relic "so future generations may see how we suffered."

Steel Rolling Mill To Make 20,000 Tons In Vancouver

A steel rolling mill, with a capacity of 20,000 tons annually, which provincial government officials hope will be the forerunner of a much larger steel operation, and should be the means of eventually making the west more or less self-supporting in its steel requirements, is being established in Vancouver.

The company will be known as the Vancouver Rolling Mills, Ltd., and has acquired a 12-acre block on south Marine Drive and a building 300 feet long and 60 feet wide has been erected with a railway spur connecting with the Vancouver and Lulu Island Railway, operated by the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd.

A 12-inch six-stand rolling mill has been installed and a 500 horsepower motor has arrived from the east to drive the mill. The company now is installing a hot-bed 100 feet long which should be completed within the next three weeks.

The mill will be capable of rolling rods from three-eighths inches diameter to one and three-quarter inches in diameter, both in rounds and squares, and of manufacturing small angles, channels, I-beams, reinforcing steel and light rails.

The industry will be financed by western Canadian capital. Officers of the company are: Roland L. Cliff, president; C. D. Hobbs, managing director; Scott Keenleyside, secretary-treasurer, and Leon J. Ladner, director and legal counsel.

The tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce will hold a luncheon meeting at the Douglas Hotel Tuesday, Mayor Percy George was informed today. G. I. Edgewood will present ideas to develop tourist trade on Vancouver Island.

The gripping story of a charming weekling and his fatal fascination for women is told in RKO Radio's new dramatic offering, "They Won't Believe Me," now at the Capitol Theatre. Robert Young, Susan Hayward and Jane Greer are starred and are said to score solid hits with their brilliant portrayals.

Young has the role of Larry Ballantine, smart young New Yorker, who loves an easy life and the company of beautiful women. His wealthy wife, Gretta, played by Rita Johnson, gives him everything she thinks he can possibly desire. Nevertheless, he cannot keep his mind from other women. She tempts him away from Janice Bell (Miss Greer) by the purchase of a luxurious home in California, where he very soon falls for the charms of Verna Carlson (Miss Hayward). Gretta then purchases a remote ranch in the High Sierras and threatens to tie up the purse-strings unless he goes along. Even this plan doesn't work, since he finds ways and means of seeing Verna. Tragic events follow, and the action moves swiftly toward a smash climax.

Child Sees Mother
At Stake In 'Joan'
As Movie Filmed

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Being an actress and a mother presents some difficult problems in child psychology, says Ingrid Bergman.

Ingrid, in her short bob and suit of mail for "Joan," said she wouldn't let her daughter see the stage version from the audience. "Seeing her mother burn at the stake would have been too much for her."

"Instead, I let her watch from backstage. She could see me go onstage and occasionally I would wink at her so she would know I was all right. I'll do the same in the picture. PIA is watching all the preparations."

"Now," Ingrid laughed, "she can hardly wait to see me burn."

YORK THEATRE

A pathetic, shocking, heart-rending story of the war is the problem of juvenile delinquency. This problem is poignantly and dramatically presented in "Girls on Probation," a Warner Bros. re-release, currently at the York Theatre.

Featured in the cast are Jane Bryan and Ronald Regan. The production, which is based on an original screen play by Crane Wilbur, was directed by William McCann.

Also seen in the film are Anthony Averill, Sheila Bromley, Henry O'Neill, Elisabeth Risdon and Sig Ruman.

Advancing into a new field of dramatic art, the Victoria Little Theatre Tuesday night resounded with bright melodies and sweet voices, while the stage presented an always delightful picture as crinolines and ceremonial Indian costumes mingled in the presentation of the light opera, "The Bride Ship."

The opera, written and produced by Winifred Lugin-Fahey, well-known Canadian soprano, is a free fantasia on the actual coming of the bride ship to Victoria in 1862. The score is not elaborate but the harmonic settings are expertly handled; the melodies are unsophisticated with a pleasing proportion of sentiment and gaiety and appealing and sturdy rhythmic patterns. The chorus work is to be highly commended, both as to writing and for some very good summed 132 days and two years elapsed between the birth of the original idea and the picture's completion. Ron Randall plays the principal role in "Pacific Adventure," currently at the Dominion Theatre.

Badman's Territory Showing At Rio

Romance and adventure in the former outlaws' paradise that today comprises the Oklahoma Panhandle are developed in "Badman's Territory," RKO Radio's new thriller epic now at the Rio Theatre, with Randolph Scott, Ann Richards and George "Gabby" Hayes. With its action laid in the turbulent nineties, the plot revolves around the efforts of a spirited newspaperwoman to bring the lawless region under federal control. Miss Richards portrays the heroine and Scott is cast as a Texas sheriff who helps her out. "Gabby" plays a genial associate of the James boys and the Dalton brothers.

Use Relief Rebate For Public Works

PORT ALBERNI — Port Alberni proposes to allocate its $11,050 relief rebate from the provincial government to three municipal projects.

A letter was sent to Victoria asking approval of allocation of $4,500 on the Dry Creek bridge, $5,719 on the hospital sewer project, and $1,835 on the proposed new public restrooms.

City council approved the letter Monday when notification of the rebate was received from the government. Although the government's letter contained instructions on application of the rebate, council had decided its use according to previous instructions.

Open Belmont High

LANGFORD — Belmont High School which has been closed for the past 10 days owing to the non-arrival of the furnace for the building will be reopened to the pupils Thursday morning.

Port Alberni Fears Isolation If Roads Not Fixed

PORT ALBERNI — Port Alberni city council has advised the public works department that serious conditions of roads leading out of the city may cause isolation if repairs are not made.

Council was acting on first hand reports that the highway at Cathedral Grove and Cameron Lake is full of deep holes and in soggy condition. Some aldermen at the meeting Monday felt if repairs are not made and heavy rains come, the roads will be impassable in spots.

Although council had learned the government has promised to start repairs, the aldermen felt the letter should be sent regardless.

Lake Cowichan Elks' Installation

LAKE COWICHAN — The Community Hall here was the scene of the annual installation of officers of Lake Cowichan Lodge No. 293, B.P.O. Elks.

Brother Geo. Grant of Mesachie Lake, as District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler, with the assistance of acting-installing officer Brother Scott Robertson and Brother Art Webb, installed the Lake Lodge officers. The ceremony was witnessed by visitors from Grand Lodge, Vancouver Island lodges, ladies of Supreme Lodge, Order of the Royal Purple, and ladies of O.O.R.P. of Lake Cowichan.

More than 400 attended the dinner and dance following the installation.

Officers installed were: Brother Dave Beech, exalted ruler; Andrew Atchison, leading knight; Walter Holmes, lecturing knight; Joseph Nichols, loyal knight; Archie B. Greenwell, secretary-treasurer; Michael Mitchell, esquire; Robert Beech, chaplain; J. R. Sedgwick, inner guard; Bruce Montgomery, tyler; Harry Dreany, pianist; Cedric Myers, historian, and Bro. David Madill, trustee.

Plebiscite Planned On Alberni Airstrip

PORT ALBERNI — A plebiscite on leasing and developing by the city of an airfield will go to the voters this fall, city council decided at its meeting Monday.

Decision was made following appearance of J. Moul, of Port Alberni Airways, who recommended that Christie Farm airstrip presented the best prospect for leasing.

The proposal for a plebiscite is to be presented to Alberni council at its next meeting, with the object of getting approval of both cities on whether or not the cities should jointly operate a field.

The move for an airfield resulted from information that two outside airlines would be interested in establishing service. T. Christie, owner of Christie Farm, has advised council that leasing of the airfield by the cities would ensure that any available federal aid would not be withheld, as it might if the field were privately owned.

G. Campbell and A. G. McCulloch, solicitors for Port and Alberni respectively, are to investigate legal aspects.

Hallowe'en Party At Langford Friday

LANGFORD — Women's Institute and Parent-Teacher Association are sponsoring a fancy dress party in the Community Hall on Island Highway, Friday night at 7, to which all children and adults of the district have been invited. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. Moving pictures will be shown.

To Vote On School By-law At Langford

LANGFORD — Voting will take place in Langford School from 8 in the morning to 8 at night on the Sooke Rural School District No. 62 $60,000 money by-law. New schools and improvements to those already in use will be possible if the by-law is approved by the voters.

Langford Basketball

LANGFORD — The Langford community and athletic basketball girls' team require three more players to complete their team this season and have asked any girl wishing to play to contact J. Massie, Island Highway.

Egg Prices Advance 3.4 Cents A Dozen

Vancouver Island poultrymen received some satisfaction from the statement issued today by William E. Hagger, Dominion government poultry produce inspector, announcing an advance of 4 cents on Grade A large eggs and advances of 3 cents on all other sizes and qualities, although the producers have been asking for a five-cent increase across the board.

Only yesterday, a delegation of 15 poultrymen met the cabinet of the provincial government to ask support of their request for the 5-cent bonus to offset the rising cost of feed. Spokesmen of the delegation said an immediate bonus of 5 cents was needed now while another increase would be needed later if grain prices advanced again.

Today's increases brings the selling price of Grade A large eggs, from wholesaler to retailer, to 50 cents a dozen. Producers will now get 44 cents a dozen for these eggs.

Prices in effect to producers for other size and quality eggs are as follows: Grade A medium, 41 cents; Grade A pullets, 37 cents, and Grade B, 28 cents. Peevee eggs were deleted from the price list as the season has now ended for this small size product.

Mr. Hagger, in announcing the new prices, said the increases would definitely go to the producers to help meet the high costs of grain and operation. "The advance is entirely justified in view of the situation," he said.

Saanich Resident 100 Per Cent Behind Amalgamation Move

E. Wardley-Smith, 2858 Seaview Road, in a letter read at Saanich Council meeting this week expressed himself as 100 per cent behind the idea of a plebiscite being presented to the Saanich voters on the question of the municipality joining hands with the city in an amalgamation move.

The council meeting rejected Councillor Leslie Passmore's proposal to present a three-point plebiscite to the voters to learn whether the people wanted a committee struck to investigate the amalgamation question, also their opinion on abolition of the ward system and a city-manager type of administration for Saanich.

The Seaview Road resident pointed out in his letter, which Reeve E. C. Warren explained was a personal message to himself and should not have got on the council agenda, that while he was previously opposed to amalgamation "I have now become thoroughly converted to the merged scheme." He believed it was inevitable and the sooner, the better for all.

The Ten-Mile Point resident saw amalgamation as means to an improvement in police and fire protection, also the water supply, in addition to other things.

This was the first message of this type expressing an individual opinion read at council meetings.

Mystery Surrounds 1948 Car Models, City Newsman Finds

By ARCHIE WILLS

Managing-Editor, Victoria Times
DETROIT, Mich. — An air of mystery surrounds the automobile companies here. It is due to the 1948 models—what will they be like?

On three successive days managing editors of Canadian and United States newspapers were guests of heads of the three major companies and during discussions questions about next year's output, labor relations, mechanical improvements, speed, safety and new models were asked.

Answers were freely given on anything asked except new models.

B. E. Hutchinson, chairman of the finance committee and vice-president of Chrysler Corporation, who took the place of K. T. Keller, president, laughingly tossed off any effort to feel him out on his company's new models.

Charles E. Wilson, the staid president of General Motors, admitted finally that his company will embody something very interesting in the Cadillac and Oldsmobile but there was not a word about the cheaper models. He hoped to have the new cars out next February.

Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Company, who is a pleasant and capable young man, intimated that his company had something good coming out and said the new models would be as interesting to look at as the beautiful young woman who had greeted us.

Ford laughed heartily when someone asked him, "When do you expect to get rid of the Chevrolet menace?" He answered "As quickly as possible."

While we were lunching with Ford and his vice-presidents in the spacious and luxurious Recreational Hall in Greenfield Village at Dearborn, Mich., Ford's new models were on the proving grounds nearby. We all wanted to have a peek at them but that was denied us. It was intimated that we would have difficulty in recognizing them as they are camouflaged in many ways.

Ford did say that his policy committee would make a decision within 10 days as to the exact date when the new models would be exhibited to the public.

FORDS GET 'NEW LOOK'

Ford and his vice-presidents all give the impression that they've got something pretty good and one said that all resemblance to the old Fords had gone. Piecing together bits of information I picked up from different Ford executives it seems that the new Fords will be lighter, manoeuvre better, have a new streamline body and improved interiors, including a front seat which will be nine inches wider and a back seat which will be four inches wider.

Just as I was leaving one of the executives volunteered this information: "Ford will make one of the biggest changeovers in the history of the industry. We're going to have a lighter but significantly better riding car."

That's where the new models rest now.

When Ford's men showed us through his immense River Rouge plant we saw nothing but the old models coming off the assembly line. It took 55 minutes to assemble a car. A frame was placed at one end of the 1,000-foot assembly line and less than an hour later, after it had passed through the hands of 500 men, the completed car rolled off the line and was driven away.

Ford's plant, which was the only one of the major companies we inspected, amazes one with its immensity. It covers two square miles and one building is one mile long. Steel mills produce 2,000 tons daily. To supply this ravenous machine are many piles of iron ore, limestone and coal, which resembles man-made mountains. Seventy-one thousand men and women are now employed there.

PRICE INCREASE SMALL
The presidents were loath to announce prices for next year's models. They all said they depended on labor and the price of raw materials. The only president who would make any kind of prediction was Wilson of General Motors who felt the increase would not exceed 5 per cent.

Regarding production all presidents were hopeful but said this depended on the supply of steel and the attitude of labor. Five million cars were produced by the industry this year and if the demands of the Marshall Plan are not too great, and there is ample steel and labor is agreeable, the presidents expected that 6,000,000 vehicles would be available to the public. Even this output, they said, would fail to satisfy the demand.

The presidents turned over to their vice-presidents in charge of labor relations all questions concerning the outlook for labor in 1948. They said they had two-year contracts with the union on all clauses except the economic one, which they did not consider any more important than some of the others.

Wilson admitted that if the cost of living continued to soar that there would be a serious problem.

The question of "When will we be able to get a new car?" was asked of all presidents but they could give no answer. They were asked as to when fenders would be available. One vice-president said there was no shortage of fenders, but when the questioner said it was a "left fender," the vice-president admitted that was different. He could get the man a right fender only.

All presidents were disappointed about the price at which used cars and new ones that were driven around the block, were selling.

WORTH MORE THAN THE PRICE

Wilson said, with a smile, that General Motors was selling a car which was worth more than what they were getting for it. "Why it's like selling a $10 bill for $8," he said. "No wonder people are willing to pay more for them."

We got a different answer to this problem from Governor Kim Sigler of Michigan. Sigler is a crusader. He was a boxer in his youth, put himself through law school and in recent years started after the racketeers in Michigan. His work brought him fame and the governorship. He is still after the racketeers.

Sigler told us that he had instructed the attorney-general of Michigan to investigate the high prices of second-hand cars. A report of his "one-man jury" will be down shortly. He intimated it was the same old gang he has been suppressing that had appeared in another form.

It won't be long before we'll see the new models, but when you'll be able to buy a new one is "a horse of a different color."

International Films

Stir Wide Interest

Wide interest is being expressed in the international film series which is sponsored by the Arts Centre of Greater Victoria and will have its first showing at the Oak Bay Theatre on Sunday at 4.

The Sergei Eisenstein film originally scheduled for the opening, has been replaced by a more famous and distinguished biographical drama from the same brilliant Russian director. This will be "Alexander Nevsky," the thrilling story of the hero-prince of medieval Russia. Hailed in all the world capitals as an all-time classic of the screen; it has breathtaking photography and is superbly mounted with the great Soviet actor, Nikolai Cherkassov in the title role. The musical score is by Sergei Prokofiev and is in itself so magnificent that it has since been arranged by the composer as a symphonic suite and has received the plaudits of leading critics. Designed to help tell the story, it at all times, serves to highlight the great artistry of the cinematic genius of Eisenstein.

The quality of future showings is guaranteed, as selection is made from films already acknowledged—masterpieces. Bookings will include famous Italian and French films. They will be shown on alternate Sundays until Jan. 11, 1948.

As the series is being sold in advance, and as the number of seats is limited, those interested are advised to get their tickets any time before 5 on Saturday, Nov. 1, either at Spencer's Douglas Street door or at Bett's Book Shop, 2224 Oak Bay Avenue.

Advertisers Meet

At Toronto Parley

TORONTO—Problems pertaining to advertising and affecting the continued peace and prosperity of Canada will be discussed at the 33rd annual convention of the Association of Canadian Advertisers to be held at the Royal York Hotel Oct. 29, 30 and 31.

"Today advertising has a major role to play in combating inflation, maintaining our present democratic Canadian way of life, and improving our standards of living. These problems all present a challenge to the intelligence, the integrity and the ability of each and every member of the advertising profession."

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria, pursuant to Section 14, Sub-section 1, of the "Municipalities Incorporation Act," B.C. 1984, intends to apply to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council for approval of a by-law purporting to extend the boundaries of the City of Victoria to include the land and land covered by water more particularly described as follows:

"Commencing at a point on the shoreline of the Straits of San Juan de Fuca at the easterly corner of the area described in Paragraph 2 of Chapter 49 of the Statutes of 1941-42, thence on a bearing (astronomic) South sixty-seven degrees twenty-seven minutes East (S. 67° 27' E.) to low-water mark on the Straits of San Juan de Fuca, thence following the line of low water—easterly—along the shoreline of the Straits of San Juan de Fuca to an intersection with the centre line of the accommodation road referred to in Paragraph 15 of Chapter 68 of the Statutes of 1941-42, thence northerly along the said centre line to the shoreline of Poul Bay, thence westerly along the shoreline of Poul Bay to the point of commencement; the said additional area to include all land lying between the shoreline and low-water mark along the said shoreline."

Dated this 27th day of October, A.D., 1947.

M. P. HUNTER, City Clerk.

Never Point A Gun At A Man; You May Shoot Him

The pointing of a loaded or unloaded gun toward another person is a violation of every principle of good sportsmanship. It is the unpardonable sin of shooting ethics. Do it just once and you have lost the respect and comradeship of your companions, and branded yourself as either a thoughtless novice or a careless, dangerous shooter with whom it is unsafe to go afield. WATCH THAT MUZZLE! Never indulge in horseplay with firearms.

Leaving loaded guns unattended is extremely dangerous. When you are resting in the field or woods, always lay your gun down flat unloading it first and with the muzzle pointing away from everybody.

Before loading your gun, and after a fall, always make sure the barrel and action are free from obstructions. Foreign matter in the barrel causes more busted guns than any other factor.

The article entitled "How To Keep Shotgunning a Safe Sport" is on page 32 in the November edition of Sports Afield. All hunters and sportsmen will appreciate the seven pictures showing how to handle a shotgun when hunting.

Sports Afield is now on sale at your magazine dealers and is distributed on Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C.

Fiance In Mishap, Elizabeth Weeps

LONDON (CP) — Columnist Noel Whitcomb said in the Daily Mirror today that when Lieut. Philip Mountbatten drove his sports car off the road last week Princess Elizabeth, notified of the accident by telephone, started racing by automobile to his bedside.

The columnist said the Princess left the palace without even telling the King and Queen. A few minutes later, however, word came that Mountbatten's injuries were trifling and the King asked Scotland Yard to stop the Princess.

"Mobile police streamed out," Whitcomb wrote. "They stopped the royal car outside London and escorted it back."

"The man who broke the news to Elizabeth that Philip was only a little hurt looked away as he spoke, for the Princess was crying."
